

Total Merger of Schools Advocated

Elementary Districts Voted Down 8-5

By DICK OSBORN

The County Committee on School District Reorganization will meet December 19 at 8 p.m. at Acalanes High School to work out details of a proposal to unify the Acalanes High School District with the elementary school districts lying within its boundaries.

This is a result of an 8-5 vote by the county augmented committee at the November 30 meeting.

Involved are the Acalanes Union High School district and the Canyon, Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga and Walnut Creek Elementary School districts.

At the December 19 meeting the committee will frame the proposal which will be presented to residents at an as yet unscheduled public hearing. Details will include the tax rate of the proposed unified district and the procedure for leveling bond issues.

This action is the result of a tension-packed meeting at Acalanes High School November 30 when the elementary school districts joined in a unanimous plea for a two-district unification plan, but were outvoted by the county committee and the Acalanes High School district representative on the augmented committee.

BEFORE Dr. Jack V. Shabbazian, chairman of the county committee, could formally open the meeting, William Lee, trustee of the Acalanes High School district and representative on the augmented committee, moved that the Odell Report, which recommends total unification of the Acalanes High School district, be approved.

This motion was immediately seconded by William Freeman, former Acalanes trustee and now member of the county committee. Objections were raised by J. Gordon Ainsworth, Orinda Elementary School district trustee and member of the augmented committee, that the meeting had not even been officially opened yet. These sentiments were echoed by Hugh Southworth of the Walnut Creek district.

Shabbazian then formally opened the meeting and the motion by Lee and second by Freeman were again presented and accepted.

Elementary Districts Agree on These Points

J. Gordon Ainsworth, chairman of the Orinda Elementary School District Board of Trustees, presented the following letter at the meeting of the County Committee on School District Reorganization November 30.

It was signed by representatives of each elementary board in the Acalanes area.

DURING the 60 days since the last meeting of this committee on the unification of the elementary schools and high schools within the boundaries of the Acalanes Union High School District, a great many discussions have been held by the individual boards, both at board meetings and at meetings with parents and parent groups.

Out of these discussions has come a degree of unanimity among the elementary school districts which we believe should carry great weight with this committee tonight.

These are the things on which there appears to be a unanimity of opinion:

1. All districts support the principle of unification as being the most desirable form of school district organization for these districts.

2. All elementary districts reject the Odell and Associates' recommendation of total unification of the Acalanes High School area.

3. ALL elementary school districts favor a program of vertical unification for the high school and elementary school districts involved.

Therefore, as the voting delegate on the augmented committee from the Orinda Elementary School District, I propose to make the following motion:

1. That the Odell and Associates report recommending total unification of the Acalanes High School area be rejected and

2. That a plan of vertical unification of the schools in the Acalanes Union High School District into two unified districts be recommended to the State Board of Education, the two districts to consist of (1) the area within the Lafayette-Walnut Creek Elementary School Districts and (2) the area within the Canyon-Moraga-Orinda Elementary School Districts.

Here Are Steps Toward Unifying School Districts

What are the next steps to be taken in the process of bringing before the voters the plan for the unification of the Acalanes High School District and the elementary districts within its boundaries?

FIRST, THE County Augmented Committee on School District Reorganization will meet Tuesday, December 19, at 8 p.m. at Acalanes High School, to work out the procedural details of the total unification plan.

These include establishing a tax rate for the proposed district and leveling the bond issues of the various districts.

Then a public hearing will be called and residents of the area will have the opportunity to hear complete details of the proposal.

FOLLOWING this public hearing, the county committee will again meet to forward the present proposal, or a modified proposal to the state.

If this proposal is accepted, then an election will be called. A simple majority in each district affected is necessary for approval of the unification plan.

Rally Mud Mess Results In 2 Way Clean-Up!

Exuberant St. Mary's College freshmen in anticipation of last Friday's basketball game with Sacramento State College, bought a junked jalopy which they set afire at a bonfire rally the night before the game.

Their desire was to stimulate ticket sales for the game, but when some prankster reported a car on fire on the campus, the Moraga Fire Department was stimulated to action.

Firemen John Huff and Ed Lucas, unaware of the rally, rolled up promptly and started pouring water on the burning auto hulk. Freshmen students who had anted up $10 to buy the jalopy watched with disbelief.

Disbelief turned to retaliation and the students began pelting the shiny truck and the fire fighters with mud balls. Huff and Lucas answered with a stream or two of water. Sheriff's deputies dispersed the students.

Later, upper classmen apologized for the freshmen and promised the first year men would be around to wash and polish the muddy truck. True to their word, the student body president and the co-chairman for the rally reported for clean-up duty.

With that score settled, the basketball team went on to wallop Sacramento State College 91-75 Friday night.

'Four Fathers' Will Entertain Nursery Group

The Four Fathers, a quartet of musical Orindans, will provide lively entertainment Thursday night when the Orinda Nursery School mothers greet the holiday with their annual Christmas party.

The H. R. Weyeneth home will be the scene of the festivities, which will begin at 8 p.m. with songs and routines by Bradford Heard, Gerald, Paul Mauser and Heber Smith. The quartet will lead the mothers in caroling later in the evening.

Huge Project Planned for Rheem

New Company to Begin $20 Million Development

A $20 million development of present holdings in Rheem will be the first major activity of the recently formed Rheem California Land Company, a wholly owned corporation with assets of approximately $6 million.

Donald L. Rheem and Richard S. Rheem, Bay Area industrialists and civic leaders this week announced the formation of the company. The company, with headquarters in Rheem will take over all of the brothers' existing activities and properties.

ITS SPECIALIZED undertakings will embrace statewide land development, multiple and single home building, business building and oil and gas exploration and development, according to the Rheems.

In announcing the $20 million development of holdings in Rheem, Richard Rheem said:

"We have a vigorous program under way to continue the fullest development of our planned business and residential properties on the 1500 acre area in Contra Costa County now being developed by Donald L. Rheem as the home community and shopping center of Rheem, California."

"Our present plans for this area envisage the expenditure of more than $20 million during the next five years for business and home construction as well as land development."

SITUATED between Orinda, Lafayette and Moraga the Rheem holdings were part of the original grant by the Spanish government to Joaquin Moraga.

Donald Rheem, of Rheem, is chairman of the board and Richard Rheem, of San Francisco, is president of the corporation. A third director is Howard Wright, Los Angeles attorney.

During the past 10 years Donald and Richard Rheem have developed properties to the stage of gas production in the Sacramento Valley and oil production in the San Joaquin Valley. These activities will continue to be conducted by the company's oil and gas division in Bakersfield. Robert W. Anderson has been named general manager of this division.

BOTH Richard and Donald Rheem have long been prominent in California in industrial, real estate, financial and civic affairs. Sons of the late William S. Rheem, once president of the Standard Oil Company of California, they launched their first joint venture 36 years ago when they founded the Rheem Manufacturing Company, with a capitalization of a few thousand dollars and one employee. Both have since severed all financial and executive connections with the firm.

Richard S. Rheem resigned as a director of Rheem Manufacturing last May. For 10 years he has been active in the operation of oil and gas properties. He recently was cited for driving at excessive speed.

Wednesday at 12:30 a.m. Donald William Anderson, 37, of 3194 Lucas Court, Lafayette, lost control of his car on the Lafayette off ramp to Highway 24 and crashed into a guard rail.

He was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek by ambulance.

ANOTHER accident occurred Wednesday at 2:20 p.m. on Ygnacio Valley Road approximately 15 feet east of Wiget Lane. A car driven by Mrs. Tillie Joan Ceballos, 42, of 159 Cerezo, Walnut Creek, struck the automobile of Mrs. Alicia H. Douglas, 63, of Concord as she was attempting to pass.

Both drivers were westbound. Mrs. Douglas said she failed to see a left-turn signal given by the other driver and swerved in an effort to avoid a collision.

Mrs. Douglas was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek by ambulance. Mrs. Ceballos was treated by a private physician.

According to a report of California State Highway Patrol, Mrs. Douglas was cited for passing at an intersection and driving without a license in her possession. Mrs. Ceballos was cited for driving with an expired license.

LAST weekend several local people were treated for injuries sustained in highway accidents. Among them were Esther Darwington, 48, of 193 Love Lane, Danville, and her son, Mark, 7, involved in a head-on collision on Highway 21 south of Hill-grade Avenue.

They were taken to Kaiser Hospital for treatment.

Also injured when their truck was struck by a car driven by Fred Werner Marcus, 37, of 21 Yetta Drive, Walnut Creek, on Taylor Boulevard and Grayson Road in Pleasant Hill were Lester Martin Grant, 39, and his wife, Ann Ruth Grant, 35, of 1092 Sanders Drive, Moraga.

A CANTATA will be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. by the choir of the Orinda Community Church, which include both adults and children. Bach's "Unto Him a Child Is Born" and Handel's "Messiah" will be among the selections. Pictured from left are Joyce Van Dyke, Joy Nelson, Janet Moe, Carol Bruno and Karin Deming.

Choir Will Feature Two Noted Yule Selections

The sanctuary choir and orchestra of the Orinda Community Church will present "For Us a Child Is Born," a musical cantata by J. S. Bach and the Christmas portion of the "Messiah" an oratorio by G. F. Handel, Sunday at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church.

A group of children from the various choirs of the church, which number seven, will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" from the "Messiah." Donald Hartsell, director of music, will direct; Lois Flenner will serve as concert mistress.

Guest soloists will include Helen Holzinger, soprano, and Kenneth Wahn, tenor. Mrs. Holzinger sang with the choir last year in the presentation of "The Seven Last Words" by DuBois, and in the presentation by the Orinda Community Church sanctuary choir of "The Crucifixion" by Steiner.

THE CHOIR includes, Marian Brown, Joanne Buckley, Helen Clark, Florence Cook, Dorothy Dunn, Margaret Eberle, Mary Grah, Mary Guiliams, Capitola Guthrie, Helen Holzinger, Virginia Howes, Molly Nelson, Nel Rem, Mary Stanley, Millie Twining, Odette Weatherbe, sopranos Edith Breed, Peg Brunk, Mary Lou Canale, Judith Chambers, Elizabeth Engstrom, Marian Erickson, Anne Haist, Dorothy Hall, Nanna Hartsell, Jeanne Milligan, Priscilla Nelson, Ena Reid, Jeanne Watkins, altos. Tenors include, Bill Brunk, Kenneth Courtright, George Darby, Dr. David Liu, Donald Skilling, Lionel Viales, Capt. Willis, Kenneth Kohn; bass, Robert Brown, Ernest Drews, Ron Fowler, Charles Marsh, Jack Moore, Robert Nelson, Fred Twining.

Boys from the pilgrim choir will usher. Arrangements are under the direction of George Darby, president of the sanctuary choir.

The public is invited to hear the presentation.

Nominations for 'Man of Year' Are Sought Now!

It's Man of the Year time again, time that is, for the community to choose a resident, man or woman, who has made an outstanding contribution to the community.

Perhaps his (her) work has been with youth, perhaps it has involved civic affairs, perhaps it includes all phases of constructive activity for those who live in the community.

EACH YEAR The Sun sponsors a Man of the Year Award. The man or woman to be honored is chosen by a committee of community conscious residents to receive the award.

The Sun has already received several nominations. These recommendations help the committee to make their choice, never an easy task.

If you know of a man or woman deserving of the honor, write your nominations to The Sun, they will be forwarded to the committee.

RESIDENTS serving on the committee will be announced. The man or woman to be honored will be announced in the December 29 issue of The Sun and later honored at a civic function.

Have You Looked Around? Yule Is Nearly Here!

"The town is jumping," it may be an old cliché, and perhaps you don't consider this community a "town," but nevertheless, there is truth in the old statement.

THE CHRISTMAS season is here—at least the Christmas shopping season is here—and already throngs of shoppers are busy giving the downtown area of the community a Christmas air.

Have you really looked lately? In case you haven't, and you think these are "early birds," you might note, on your calendar, that there are just 13 shopping days left until Christmas.

But above all the Christmas shopping, and the hurried people looking for that special article for good old aunt Minnie, you can begin to feel the real spirit of Christmas settling down.

DECORATIONS are beginning to go up in private homes, lights are beginning to twinkle through the twilight, and the sound of music is more apparent than at any other time of the year.

Christmas is well on the way.

Altairinda Hearing Is Tuesday

Hearing on 185 acres of land known as the Altairinda Property or "Orinda North" has again been delayed. The matter is now due to come before the Contra Costa County Planning Commission December 12.

Builders Bryan & Murphy have requested a permit to build a subdivision, Tract 2893, with 200 lots in an area zoned R.A. Requested exception is 67 lots of less than one half acre.

The Orinda Association and many Home Owner Associations in Orinda have voiced unanimous opposition to the proposed subdivision as the plans now stand.

Freeman Urges Total Unification

William B. Freeman, former Acalanes High School District trustee and current member of the County Committee on School District Reorganization urged that the Acalanes High School District and all elementary school districts within its boundaries be unified into one district at the meeting of the augmented committee November 30.

He told county committee members:

"In my 10 years on the Acalanes board I was never aware of a single instance of real disagreement or disharmony between our various boards, or between members of different boards.

have been outstanding in this community—first, the high quality of the boards, and second, the high quality of education. It figures!

"I have the highest respect for the sincerity and integrity of the members of all of these boards. Most of you I have known personally over many years. We are friends, with a common objective—the best education of our children within reasonable cost.

"Going back over our joint experience in this unification issue, I believe one limitation became clear to all of us. Each of us serving on our boards actually was bound and circumscribed by our experience and school knowledge pretty much to our own particular district. We are all laymen.

"We deal with the policies and problems of our own district almost exclusively, and our only direct liaison with other boards and districts has been through our affiliation with a common high school system.

"BUT IN THIS extensive internal experience and background, we have had no experience nor knowledge by which we can know what results might be expected from any form of unification. We do not know, really, what has happened elsewhere in the state and in the west when unification has been accomplished in various forms.

"No matter how knowledgeable or experienced we have become in the affairs of our own individual districts, we are almost totally without direct experience or knowledge as to what really happens, good or bad, in different types of unification.

"Hence, without outside competent advice, we must judge unification by what we guess will happen to the excellent interrelated system of each of our boards has worked so hard to build up.

"... we had tried unsuccessfully for several years to find a common decision on unification ourselves—and instead we found that each of our boards, naturally and honestly enough, seemed to favor a form of unification which most closely preserved its own particular district.

"In doing so, in my opinion, we reflected the natural and instinctive belief of each of us that our particular school district system was pretty darned good, and should be disturbed as little as possible in unification.

"IN THE LAST meeting of this augmented committee, before I left for an extended eastern business trip, the report of the Odell Associates was attacked several times as to its integrity.

"Of course I do not deny the right to disagree with its conclusions, which after all are a matter of professional judgment; but let's not degrade ourselves by attacking the integrity of responsible counselors of unimpeachable professional reputation simply because we disagree with their conclusions.

"It seems to me the public has been unduly confused and in some instances unnecessarily alarmed by this agitation. For it is our responsibility as the augmented committee, to weigh the facts and the advice available to us, and to determine in our combined good judgment what form of unification will at some time come to the public for their vote for or against.

County Committee Votes Merger 8-5

Then the elementary school district trustees presented a unified front, and argued for two hours, using every parliamentary device they could bring to command, to get the county committee to consider a plan which would call for two unified districts instead of the one big district called for by the Odell report.

THE DISTRICT proposed by the elementary trustees would create one elementary and high school district of the present Orinda, Moraga, Canyon and that portion of the high school district within these boundaries, and a second including Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

This would mean that Las Lomas, Acalanes and Del Valle High Schools would be in one unified district, while Miramonte and the new Campolindo High School would go with the other district.

Ainsworth addressed the crowded meeting, reading a letter which was signed by all the elementary districts calling for the two-district proposal (see separate story).

FOLLOWING this, he said, "This is a considerably important hearing. Further discussion is in order. If the high school district hadn't been so agile, we would have proposed this two-district unification plan."

The elementary district trustees feel that we must provide the best administration system and educational system possible to our students, and that we also have a duty to the taxpayers.

"I don't know if it is proper for me at this time to offer defeat of this motion (offered by Lee for total unification), but I would do so."

He pointed out that all the elementary districts had signed the letter and urged that the Odell report be rejected and that a two-district plan be proposed and accepted.

Alex Lindsay, member of the Walnut Creek district, was recognized and read a letter which clarified his board's position regarding the decision. He pointed out that the Walnut Creek trustees would:

1. Support the principle of unification as being the most desirable form of school district reorganization.

2. Reject the Odell report of total unification.

3. FAVOR a district which would have an ultimate daily average attendance of approximately 25,000 students, rather than the total unification plan which would result in ultimate higher attendance.

4. Urge that whatever plan was ultimately adopted at the meeting would be made a part of the county master plan and not be put before the voters for immediate action.

Donald Falconer of Moraga commented that he found the Odell report inadequate and that the Moraga board favored a two-district unification plan.

Irving Kraemer, Walnut Creek trustee, told the committee that total unification was not to his board's liking, and asked that two things be kept in mind.

"WE ASKED the Odell group to make one recommendation. We challenge the Odell group to really come up with what the taxpayers and the children need in each district."

He suggested that a total unified district would be far too large, leading to bureaucracy and lack of efficiency and loss of local control.

He stressed that the Walnut Creek board favored a two-district unification plan, pointing out that such a plan offered all the advantages of unification as outlined by the Odell report, but without the disadvantage of size.

He then proposed that the Acalanes motion for total unification be tabled, but was outvoted, 8-5, which was eventually to be the final vote in favor of total unification.

AINSWORTH again addressed the group, noting that the elementary districts have come a long way. "We have tried to represent our people," he said. "We asked for a delay (six weeks ago) and have talked to our people. We represent 12,000 students, while the Acalanes trustees represent only 4,000 students."

"The elementary districts have yielded in many of the things they wanted to do, which they considered best for their individual districts. The county committee should be aware of what it is doing if it forces an election on the people. It is only my opinion, but it has very little chance of success. I charge the county committee with this responsibility."

"The elementary districts have agreed upon a plan."

Lee, of the Acalanes district, then noted that the unification study had been going on for four years, and that more time might be taken, but that he doubted if more understanding would result.

HE POINTED out that the Odell report had taken all plans into consideration, including that proposed by the elementary trustees, and had come up with a recommendation for total unification.

He noted that the Contra Costa County board of supervisors had come up with the necessary funds to pay for the Odell report because the various districts could not agree on a plan, and then stated the position of the Acalanes board, that the committee should vote for or against total unification as recommended by the Odell group.

Boardman Moore, representative from Orinda, said that the elementary districts had come a long way; that a year ago six districts met with six different plans, and that none were acceptable, but that now the five elementary districts have come together on an acceptable plan.

"The Acalanes district has always been for horizontal unification," he said. "The report recommends horizontal unification, so why should they say anything?"

WILLIAM Freeman, Lafayette resident and member of the county committee, then read a statement outlining the history of the unification struggle and asking acceptance of the Odell report (see separate story).

Phil Bush, representing Orinda, asked the committee if it had come prepared to vote strictly for the Odell report or to listen to members of the elementary districts who represent the majority of children of the area. He agreed with Freeman that no divided unification plan was acceptable to all, but pointed out that horizontal or total unification wasn't either.

Dr. Shahbazian then called for a vote, but accepted an amendment from Ainsworth, calling for a vote to be put before the public as soon as possible on the decision of the county committee.

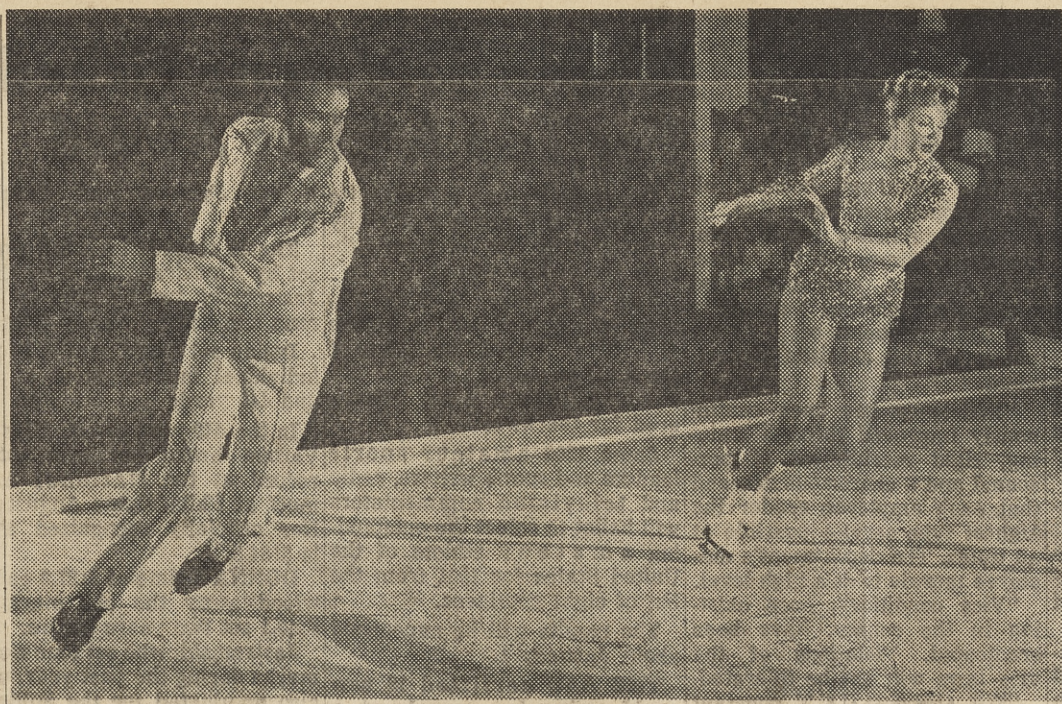

The vote was 8-5 favoring the Odell report—or calling for total unification of the Acalanes High School district and the Canyon, Moraga, Lafayette, Orinda and Walnut Creek Elementary districts into one large school district.

The elementary districts voted no; the county committee members present and the Acalanes High School representative voted yes.

County Road Work Gets Outside Cash

Contra Costa County's share of state and federal funds apportioned to California counties for county road construction for 1962-63 amounts to $363,909.

Of this, $263,909 is federal money.

SKATING TOGETHER professionally as they did in the Ice Follies are Beverly and Barry Gorman of Lafayette who are participating in the ice show held daily except Sunday on the Kaiser Center Roof Garden in Oakland.

Freeman Advocates Total School Merger

"Among the major points which seem apparent to me from a study of the Odell report are the following:

"Any form of vertical unification would do violence to the high school system. It will be severed, and the benefits of specialization and interchange among the high schools will be lost."

"Any segmented unification of the Acalanes district can be found which will equitably divide the high schools or suitable high school sites among the proposed segments. Hardship will result somewhere."

"No plan of vertical unification will create tax unevenness somewhere of somewhat substantial proportions."

"Any segmented unification plan will cost the average taxpayer more for equivalent levels of education. Put the other way, better education will result per tax dollar from horizontal unification. I fully accept the authority of the Odell report for such conclusion."

"REGARDING the desire for 'local control,' I concede this as the natural wish of every citizen—to have his responsible board member as close as possible. However, I believe it is a vastly overrated factor; and I believe most citizens will prefer a better education for their children above all else."

"But what are we afraid of in horizontal unification? Somehow one gets the impression we are about to surrender our whole community school system to some foreign power. One is made to feel that we are going to lose control of it to some mysterious, unknown authority."

"Just who is going to run this new unified school district, if we bring it about? It's us! The same community that has run our school system so well in the past will run it just as well, and better, in future unified form."

"But there will be one important distinction—you will be backed and aided by a combined and well-organized professional staff which can help you reach heights of educational standards above anything our present divided districts, with their limited staffs, can achieve."

"I happen to believe, for instance, that a new unified district should bring together all of the administrative and professional staffs from all component districts, and weld them into a truly outstanding professional team. Then later, as retirements and attrition take their toll, and the preliminary years of reorganization pass, this staff can be tightened to achieve the suggested efficiency outlined in the Odell report."

"You in this room who would be chosen to serve on a new unified board, think what a richness of opportunity you would have to put together, a superb professional staff from our present, excellent separate staffs! Think of the gain to come from eliminating the almost completely duplicated activity of all our separate boards and staffs, and combining this released energy into a far better single system."

"ABOUT THE ultimate size of the district that would be created, I fully and confidently accept the statements in the Odell report that some of the finest, most efficient and professionally most respected school systems in the state and in the nation have school populations comparable to what ours would be."

Local Skaters Starring in Santa on Ice

Central Contra Costa County really has its own contingent performing daily in "Santa on Ice," a review being performed on the Kaiser Center roof garden.

Neil Rose of Walnut Creek is producing the show, as well as skating the lead part. He became internationally famous as one of the "rookies" comedy ice team that toured the United States and Europe for 13 years.

Among other members of the cast are Beverly and Barry Gorman of Lafayette, former stars in the Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies. They started skating together when they were both seven years old and joined the ice follies when they were 16.

Hope Cuny, another member of the cast, turned pro this year and is an instructor in Walnut Creek. Nancy Copeland Reeves, a choreographer and skater, also teaches in Walnut Creek.

"Santa on Ice" will be presented Monday through Friday until December 23 at 12:30, 1:30, 5:30, 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., and Saturdays at 12:30, 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Unification Of Schools In Pamphlet

Unification of school districts—combining under one board and one administration all grades from kindergarten through high school—is the subject of a pamphlet offered to interested citizens by the office of the county superintendent.

Nativity Cancellation Vetted by WC Council

Cancellation of the Christmas nativity scene in front of the Walnut Creek city hall on the basis that it violates the constitutional principle of separation of church and state was requested Wednesday night, and refused by the city councilmen, splitting their votes, 3-1.

The request was made by attorney Jess Abramovitz of 273 Santa Fe Drive, Walnut Creek, who is social action chairman of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

Councilman Newell Case and Mayor Fred Sanders both spoke heatedly in favor of continuing the custom of many years' standing.

The Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce provides the manpower, taking the nativity scene figures from storage in the city corporation yard and arranging them at the center of the city hall entrance.

Jack Pillsbury is Jaycee committee chairman.

THE DEPICTION of the birth of Christ usually attracts considerable public attention each Christmas season.

The matter was raised by Councilman Case, who referred to an October 17 letter written by Abramovitz to City Manager Laverne Kimball.

Abramovitz was attending the council meeting to speak in favor of a convalescent hospital development in the downtown area.

The letter adds that the state attorney general has ruled repeatedly that the only exception to this rule is where a religious group may use public facilities "... when the same are in no way being used by the public for other than their intended purposes and are to some extent considered surplus."

Abramovitz' letter, written on the letterhead of Robert C. Burnstein law offices, 414 13th Street, Oakland, says that no matter what religion the proposed function or object favors, or even where it favors several of them, it is an abridgement of the state and national constitutions.

"... It must be considered that the rights of the atheist, the Buddhist, the Taoist or the agnostic must be safeguarded as that of the Christian or the Jew," the letter said.

THE LETTER continued that the use of the city hall grass for the nativity scene would amount to "... a grant to or an aid of a religious sect, church, creed or sectarian purpose."

Abramovitz, when asked to explain his position, added that he and the Jewish Community Center are not opposed to the depiction of the nativity scene, and in fact, "... It should be present during the Christmas season." But he objects to the use of public property, he said.

Councilman Case said the nativity scene has become a tradition in Walnut Creek over the years, and it is the property of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber, which may be joined by young men of all creeds and faiths.

CASE continued, "I realize the separation of church and state is basic, and was a prime motivating factor in the establishment of our country."

"But I notice that here in our city we open our meetings with a prayer, followed by an oath of allegiance."

"We might logically decide some day that the national anthem should be added. You remember that the words include, 'And this be our motto, in God is our trust.'"

"But just think of how this can be extended. A local church catches fire, and the city fire department is called to put out the fire. An atheist might seek to get an injunction to prevent now or in the future the answering of that call."

Case continued "Our problem today is the hate, fear, strife, prejudice and intolerance in this world. If I should make the fire department refuse to answer church calls, what have I accomplished for the brotherhood of man?"

Mayor Sanders said, "I think the nativity scene should be allowed."

Strong applause followed Case's statement.

"THERE is no expenditure of municipal funds, or city employees' time. How far do you want to carry that sort of reasoning?"

Councilman Douglas Page, who cast the dissenting vote against continuing the nativity scene practice this year, said, "I should have caught this myself. It was a mistake to have allowed it."

NOTING the applause for Case's statement, Page said, "I dare say there would be no applause if the Star of David were set forth in the same manner. But there is just as much justification or lack of justification in that case."

"I suggest we discuss this in calmer times, when Christmas is past this year. We could then review policy in the cold light of January."

Sanders retorted, "I like to think of Christmas as an all-year-round thing. I don't feel we would change our minds in January." He added he would see the matter go to court before changing his mind.

Case moved to continue the nativity scene, as in past years, and reserve discussion of the matter until next year. The 3-1 vote ended the debate.

Jewish Center Opinion Varies On WC Creche

The Contra Costa Jewish Community Center became involved in the question of the constitutionality of the Walnut Creek city hall's nativity scene only to avoid the more serious aspects of litigation initiated by other groups.

Rabbi David Robins said the center's board of directors voted to request that the nativity scene not be erected was part of an effort to dissuade American Jewish Congress representatives from bringing court action.

"Most of the center's members strongly regret that this matter came up at this time in this way," Rabbi Robins said.

The center's opinion, as described by Jess Abramovitz, social action chairman, is that the principal of separation of church and state is involved, he added, however.

Edward Weiss of 2829 San Benito Drive, Walnut Creek, said he and several other persons had considered legal action before he became a member of the Community Center last September.

Weiss is a vice-president of B'nai Brith, and a member of the American Jewish Congress which has been interested in cases where the principle of church and state separation has been violated, he said.

American Jewish Congress members will discuss taking legal steps in the event the nativity scene is placed on public property in front of the Walnut Creek city hall, he said.

It was Abramovitz who requested that legal steps be postponed, pending a direct appeal to city council, Weiss said.

Church, State Rule Doesn't Apply---Att'y

"The Walnut Creek city council is right."

This was City Attorney Carl Noecker's statement yesterday, after the council denied by a 3-1 vote a request that the nativity scene in front of the city hall be canceled on the basis of separation of church and state.

Noecker said at first he thought that the state and federal constitutional prohibitions applied to the Walnut Creek situation, but he changed his mind after more research into the matter.

Sheriff Is Candidate

Sheriff Walter F. Young this week announced he will run for re-election.

Young was first elected sheriff in January, 1959, defeating incumbent Harry Brown. Young was a sergeant in the Walnut Creek sub-station at that time.

Born in Emeryville, he joined the department in 1943, after gaining experience in various assignments.

HE HAS been a county resident for 23 years, and resides in Lafayette with his wife, Isabelle, and two of his five children, Donna, age 15; and Russell, 2.

The Youngs have three married sons, Walter, Jr., Bruce and Douglas, all residing in El Cerrito with their families.

Young said his department will continue to offer efficient service appropriate to a "first class law enforcement agency" if he is re-elected.

He made the following statement:

"THE DEPARTMENT has undergone a complete reorganization along established and proven police principles.

"Accomplishments have included a completely equipped criminalistics laboratory which serves every law enforcement agency in the county, a department recording system for central reporting, allowing greater patrol time in the field and enabling investigating forces to handle follow-up services in the shortest time possible.

"Installation and operation of a modern radio and telephone system, periodic staff meetings between the sheriff and the supervisory levels to ensure the best coordination and cooperation at all times, a continuous sanitary program at the jail and rehabilitation center to guarantee the cleanest institution possible with weekly inspections to maintain the jail system at a high level," said Young.

"We organized and placed into operation the "S" squad, a new approach in police patrol tactics, developed a highly skilled vice squad, acquired additional needed personnel, streamlined all department titles by reclassification from a multitude of special titles to titles properly designating rank level.

"THE ENTIRE department has been developed into a flexible group that can be utilized as needed for the greatest efficiency.

Additional housing allows proper staff operation.

"We established watch commanders, improved the detective services and completed many other changes resulting in the improvement of every phase of the sheriff's department.

"Efficiency has been continuously improved through training, rigid recruitment of personnel and a continuous demand that each employee render the highest type service possible at all times. The department's employee morale is at a high level.

"Vice conditions, once existing in the county, have been eradicated. Violations of the vice laws will not be tolerated.

"WE CONDUCT constant planning and research in order to continue to improve the service of the department and to keep abreast of the latest developments in police science," said Young.

Young is a member of the Kiwanis Club, Elks, Moose, Eagles, Native Sons of the Golden West, Optimist Club of Concord, California State Sheriff's Association.

Donna de Varona Picked For Top Athlete Award

Donna de Varona of Lafayette had two world records officially recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union last week.

Two days later, Miss de Varona was named by the James E. Sullivan Award Committee of the AAU as one of the eight outstanding athletes being considered for the award.

Some 1200 amateur sports leaders and sports writers, radio and television commentators will ballot to select the outstanding amateur athlete of the United States for 1961 from the list of eight nominees.

The results will be announced about January 1.

THE AAU certified 19 new world swimming records at a meeting in Washington, D.C., Thursday.

The AAU also selected all-American swimming teams for both men and women.

Miss deVarona was named the top performer in the 200, 220, 400 and 440-yard individual medley events as well as being picked on the free style relay team with Chris Von Saltz, Robyn Johnson and Carolyn Wood.

The 19 records included seven set by Americans—four by Chet Jastremski, two by Miss de Varona and one by Nancy Ramey.

Donna set world marks in the individual medley event at 400 and 440 yards last summer.

In the 440-yard event, Miss de Varona broke her own world record at the National AAU meet at Philadelphia August 11. Her officially recognized time is 5:34.5.

DONNA'S time of 5:37.9 easily wiped away the old mark of 5:40.2 set two years before.

Jastremski, who set four world marks during the past year, was also nominated for the Sullivan Award.

Others being considered are: Jerry Lucas of Ohio State basketball fame; Wilma Rudolph, outstanding track woman; Tommy Kono, champion weightlifter; Ralph Boston, world broad jump champion; Frank Budd, holder of the world record for the 100-yard dash (9.2); Barbara Galleher, tumbling and trampolining champion.

DIMINUTIVE Eve Parker cuddles her black poodle, Mitzi, as she rocks amid the treasures of the Chalet room. The Chalet and adjoining cottage house many treasures of sentimental and artistic value which Mrs. Parker has collected over the years. Cordial hosts, the Parkers are happy to show their unusual home to those who find it irresistible.

THE SWISS CHALET, a shuttered hearts and flowers abode, transports the visitor to an Alpine House. Here overnight guests are lodged and here Mrs. Parker works on her candles and other crafts. The "Romeo and Juliet" balcony (center right) is draped with lavender wisteria in the spring and the old Victorian wrought iron fence is flanked by camellias, azaleas and a carpeting of violets.

Hansel & Gretel, Even Santa Could Live Here

By MARIE MONAHAN

IF MR. and MRS. Santa Claus decided to move to suburbia, the house of their choice might indeed be the charming one that sits snugly and snugly at the right side of a little street named Rose Lane in Orinda.

"You truly have to see it to believe it," we've heard many visitors to the unique abode exclaim. Or "I wouldn't have missed it for the world!" sighs another.

"A cozy retreat from the outside world" offers a frequent guest, all echoing similar praises for the picturesque pretty story-book house that Mr. and Mrs. Norman Parker have called "the home of our dreams" for the past fourteen years.

ORIGINALLY designed as a "honeymoon house" by Mrs. Elizabeth deLaveaga around 1937, the old-world cottage has been expanded in size as well as charm, its most recent addition being a Swiss Chalet-type studio and guest quarters over the garage with a balcony connection to the main house.

The Parkers credit their builder, Bob Klein Schorel who has maintained the original architectural appearance and has never disappointed his clients, no matter how unusual their requests.

Let's take a visit, shall we? A first view of the house with its quaint thatched roof of uneven shingles, its ethereal quality, gives the passerby a sudden impression it's right from the pages of a fairy-tale. Up the curving path past primrose bushes, the shutters and windowboxes wink a welcome and one is reminded of Hansel and Gretel's tempting gingerbread house.

A PROSPECTIVE first-time caller can scarcely wait to get inside for a closer inspection of the artistic interior. From then on, there's so much to see that it's hard on the orbs (but easy on the heart) taking in all the tiny and diminutive details of this fetching and fastidious household.

After fourteen years of planning, purchasing old pieces and accessories and saving and storing them for just the right place, the Parkers finally feel they are "finished" and can just "putter around" in this house that their dreams built.

While the petite Mrs. Parker was bedfast years ago, she kept busy planning for the home that the two would someday buy or build. Over the phone she got on a first-name basis with some of the area's finest craftsmen and collectors and over the years, choice antiques as well as just plain charming items came her way. She didn't have to look for them, says she, "They found me."

WHEN the couple, who were married on St. Valentine's Day and will celebrate their 29th anniversary, came upon the cottage one day, they instinctively knew they were to live there.

At the time, real estate man Walter Friberg told them he was sorry, but the house had just been sold. But the deal fell through and the following day Friberg happily called the Parkers to tell them they could have it.

The couple then became owners of the house that another Orinda family, the Ernest Rahmeyers, with the advent of two children, had outgrown.

First room to be remodeled was the upstairs bedroom and attached tiny bath which has stained glass windows above its dutch doorway, cherubs flying around the mauve interior and the whimsy of walls covered with hundreds of Valentines and greeting cards the couple had exchanged and saved.

SUMMER Breakfasts are taken on the upstairs balcony just outside the white, cranberry and delft blue bedroom dressed up with wonderful old wicker pieces, a lace carved and canopied wooden bedstead and a fragile cranberry glass chandelier given to the Parkers on their 25th wedding anniversary.

IF YOU'll step into the elegant parlor just off the bedroom and bath, you might imagine yourself to be in a very petite parisian salon for here the feeling is sophisticated and formal. The fine French pieces were gifts from Eva's father from whom she inherited an eye and appreciation for fine craftsmanship as well as a penchant for detail.

From the parlor upstairs, you stand at the top of the curved staircase and look up or down, out or back, at a flow of graceful lines and muted colors. Your eyes travel overhead to the cathedral ceiling of the living room with its unusual odd angles and rough-hewn beams and take in the one and a half-story view of the terraced garden from the rising leaded windows of the little living room below.

At the foot of the staircase you admire a small windowglass etched with delicate dove pattern and brought from Europe by the original owner Mrs. deLaveaga. Christmas season, the staircase gets garlanded with rose lights and a white topiary tree rests on the rich dark walnut balustrade that began life as part of a church pulpit.

CONTINENTAL in flavor, but cozy inviting, is the semi-formal living room. Its matching French chairs, needlepoint pieces, beaded lamps and antique settee are usually grouped before a glowing fire with a tray of tea things on the handsome mirrored round coffee table.

The two-way fireplace burns at the same time in the adjoining "party room" entered through a swinging door carved intricately in a persian motif and brought from the finis of an historic old mansion in San Francisco. This room, designed by the Parkers, utilizes four years of accumulated treasures the couple had stored away.

The light settles mellow and softly through a round, rose quartz window glass handset like jewels, in ruby and amethyst tones and patterns. This too, had a former home, in an hold house in France.

A profusion of dresden figures, milk glass, cups and saucers and colored glass adorn the shelves behind the long window seat and a cumbersome old-fashioned umbrella stand with its ornately framed mirror serves to display some of Mrs. Parker's custom-designed candles which were sold at a Children's Hospital benefit candlelight tea by Linden Branch members at the house Wednesday.

BACK TO the kitchen before we go for a longer look at the doll-house setting where the dusting alone of bricabrac and dishes would be a labor of love had not the Parkers devised their own plan of rotating the china.

You've seen hooded stoves, yes, but none like this stalwart one housed in white brick and roofed above in dutch blue shingles. Blinking from underneath hang a potpourri of polished copper kettles, pots and pans and sundry sparkling culinary items bright and gay as new dollhouse toys. A fruit pattern splashes the old Spanish blue tile surrounding the sink and the calico curtains and colorful contents of old glass china closets beckon you to a closed look.

The favorite exit (and entry) is through the garden-dining room where a curtained trundle bed takes up a corner for an after-dinner nap. To the left, here is the only modern innovation in the house, a master bath and dressing room for the man of the house with ruby-red etched glass panes at the windows and a paragon of a huge wardrobe closet.

OUT THE dining room door, we stand under the "Romeo and Juliet" balcony (in the spring it's draped with lavender wisteria). Here, Mr. Parker's prize camellia plants are putting out their buds and the old Victorian wrought iron fence is flanked by more camellias, azaleas, and a carpeting of violets of which Eva's friends are each assured weekly nosegays during the long spring bloom of the little lavender flowers.

OVER the garage, the newest delight is the hearts-and-flowers-shuttered Swiss Chalet that transfers you to an alpine house as soon as you enter and behold the most unbelievable and harmonious blend of both old and new furniture. Here guests overnight, or Eva works on her candles or other crafts.

The symbol of the house is hearts, apropos for a house built of love and dreams and a house which the generous couple are delighted to share with everyone. When Eva's friends chastise their children to remain outside, the dresden-doll lady that matches her house so well, welcomes them and bids them inside. She will tell you that her favorite guests are children for "even more than adults, they truly appreciate beautiful things."

Board Reaffirms Choice Of Plan F Unification

Trustees of the Orinda Union School District Monday reaffirmed their choice of Plan "F" for unification, despite the fact the augmented committee voted 8 to 5 for horizontal unification on November 30.

Plan "F," which basically calls for two unified districts composed of all the existing districts involved, is also the choice of the other school districts.

In other business the board adopted a resolution to conduct patriotic exercises in compliance to a new state law. The law will be upheld, in the board's opinion, if students pledge allegiance in a daily flag salute.

TRUSTEES considered a letter from Richard Spear regarding the possibility of using the I. V. Intermediate School as a meeting place for St. Giles Episcopal Church.

The board regarded the request with favor, but were agreed that any such use must be in accordance with regulations of the district attorney's office governing the use of school buildings and then put out to bid.

District Superintendent J. L. Sheaf said that classrooms had not been used before for use by other than students, although the multi-use rooms were made available to the public. The board took no action on this matter, and advised Spear to make a formal request in writing from the church.

MARVIN TAYLOR, present inspector for the administration building now under construction was named by the board to serve as inspector for the Del Rey multi-purpose room and Inland Valley addition, unit 7.

District Librarian Mrs. Alice Frederick reported on the district's library and distributed a hand book on policy for book selection to the trustees.

Trustees also discussed the 1962-63 school calendar, but no action was taken. They agreed to consult with other districts before determining opening, closing and holiday dates. The calendar of the Acalanes Union board usually conforms to the High School District due to bus transportation problems.

The board also agreed to broaden the civil defense policy to include any emergency.

ELECTED to teach for the remainder of this school year are these teachers who completed their student teaching during the fall term with the Orinda District:

Mrs. Janet Tirrell, Del Rey, 6th grade; Miss Virginia Haire, Glorietta, 6th grade; Mrs. Nancy Robinson, Sleepy Hollow, 4th grade.

January 8 was set as the date for the next regular meeting of the board, due to the first Monday of the month falling on New Year's Day.

Girl Scouts Plant Beauty

Orinda Brownies, Scouts, leaders, and co-leaders, are having an active season. Troops 281 and 22 under the Mesdames J. B. Saunders and J. L. Ford have taken Western Pacific train trips to Stockton; while Mrs. C. E. Blevin's troop 348 had a highly successful holiday in the Santa Cruz mountains. Troop 156 under Mrs. Charles Jones had the exciting experience of climbing with the Sierra Club; while Mrs. P. L. Hussey's Troop 365 has been preparing and presenting plays. Troop 254, under the leadership of Mrs. Wickland, is working on a Good Grooming Badge and planning a fashion show.

Scouting fun is serious and rewarding, too, according to Mrs. Lloyd Hecathorn of Troop 341 and Mrs. Fen Wilson of Troop 297 who, along with several other Orinda troops, have undertaken the dispatching of hundreds of pounds of clothing, toys, records and other gifts to the Kum Kok Orphanage in Korea during the last three years. There are 49 children in the Korean orphanage, ranging in ages from two to 16.

"SUCH POLITE, nice, and appreciative children," said Mrs. Hecathorn. "They have written us thank-you notes and have enclosed snap shots with their names on them so that our girls now feel they 'personally' know these young people."

"They are going to be very surprised," continued Mrs. Hecathorn, "when they receive a letter from us written to them in Korean!" This all came about, Mrs. Hecathorn explained, when some of the Orinda Girl Scouts invited a Korean graduate student from the University of California to address the group and to tell them about life in Korea.

THE YOUNG man's name is Suh Urk Chung, and it was to him the girls dictated a letter in English to their friends in the orphanage which he transcribed into Korean.

Mrs. Hecathorn would appreciate a telephone call (CL 4-5847) from anyone who would like to donate any items to these Korean boys and girls. Mrs. Hugh Reed, leader of Troop 107, would appreciate a call from anyone who has used or outgrown Brownie or Scout uniforms (CL 4-2549).

Our Music Man & to A Musical Lady, too!

SING A SONG of Christmas and dedicate a carol, please, to members of the school music departments who have contributed vocally and instrumentally to the Spirit of the Season. We mean Messrs. Meeder Luoma, Pendleton and Anderson and to the lady music teacher, too, Diane Kubley.

Gerald Meeder, for eight years director of the school orchestras in the Orinda Union School District, four years as music coordinator, whose interest in music goes from Bach to Boogie and includes a background of work in opera, ballet, and radio NBC. A professional musician for 25 years who received his AB from SF State, his Master's at UC, the native Sacramentoan lives here on Arroyo Drive with his wife Marjorie.

CHARLES PENDLETON shares the interest in the Orinda Union School District as a sixth year instrumental music teacher. The tall native Missourian graduated with a BS from Southeast Missouri State College, did a Navy stint that found him studying musical studies at William & Mary College, received his MA at SF State College. He and his wife Jacqueline are sharing the fun of a first Christmas for their new son, ten-month-old Matthew who keeps things humming in their Berkeley household.

ROBERT LUOMA who is partial to that Partridge in a Pear Tree at Christmas School Sings every year, is the unofficial Music Consultant, and Music Teacher of classroom music and vocal music in his fifth year in the local school district. Aura of Spanish Yule Now Enhances Orinda Decorations for Orinda's Spanish Christmas have been going up all week. Girl Scouts from 17 village troops have been hanging their own Mexican tin creations on shrubs and smaller trees every day after school, and the three Orinda garden clubs trimming the two large trees yesterday, with the help of Orinda firemen.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joseph Conley, the Orinda Christmas Decorating Committee has planned the Spanish style celebration to include both the village and crossroads sides of Orinda, with giant cerise pinatas, a nativity scene in Mexican mood, and street banners greeting shoppers and passers-by with "Feliz Navidad," the Spanish equivalent of "Merry Christmas."

ON THE evening of December

20, about 50 Orinda Village Girl Scouts will participate in an adaptation of the Las Posadas festival, which in Mexico dramatizes the Holy Family's search for lodging.

The youngsters will sing a Spanish version of "Silent Night" and the special lullaby sung at all Las Posadas celebrations, carrying candles and walking in procession.

Mrs. John Boyen, a native of Morelia, Mexico, is serving as advisor.

Merchants and service clubs are cooperating enthusiastically, and cub and Boy Scouts will assist. The Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce is decorating the bus shelter with a serape-garbed Santa.

MEMBERS of the Orinda Christmas Decorating Committee include, in addition to chairman Mrs. Joseph Conley, Mesdames Paul Pollaczek, James Anderson, Dale McBane, Kenneth Renwick, Fenn Wilson, Ralph Hickcox, Howard Bell, Richard Funk, Robert Davis, William Wilkenson, Edward Lester, Phil Champion and Charles Gibbs.

Organizations represented are: Orinda Art Center, and three garden clubs, Orinda, Hilltop and Orinda Valley.

Miramonte Mirror

After-Game Dance Is Packed with Rooters

By KITTY MIKA AND ANN LINCOLN

Basketball season began with a tense game against Berkeley High. The Matadors made it a close game all the way though, with first one team and then the other taking the lead.

Bob Williams made the crucial basket in the last second, making the score 34 to 35 in favor of the Matadors, and the whole rooting section went wild. Miramonte's joy didn't last for long, though, because the timer ruled that the buzzer rang before the ball left Bob's hands.

Nevertheless, it was a great game, and we're looking forward to even better ones!

THE FIRST after-game dance at Miramonte was held Friday night following the game. Practically the whole student body piled into the cafeteria to join in the fun.

Among the countless teens there were Chrissy Voll and Bill Cooper, Karen Call and Ron MacCarrio, Jackie Villata and Bruce Nickerson, Doug Hamilton and Mimi McGraw, and Bill Lincoln and Sybil Elgus. We hear Carol Gilmore really got a kick out of those circle dances!!

Quite a few seniors missed out on Friday night's fun, and stayed home and slept to prepare for the College Boards, which were given bright and early Saturday morning. By the time 12 p.m. rolled around most of them were so exhausted they were ready to climb right back in bed.

Well, the senior girls are at it again. Last Tuesday Hester Harris fell right in the middle of the wet, muddy lawn, and Bonnie Kent toppled right on top of her. At least some amusement is being provided at lunch time!

THE DIANAS put on a party to be proud of last Saturday night. It was a midnight supper held at the home of Linda Sears, and the Christmas spirit was carried out in the decorations. Linda's date was Mike Suputo, and some of the others there were Steve Baker and Sue Starkman, Karen Satterthwaite and Robin Alvarez, Linda Lindsay and Dick Bowne, and Sandy Poulson and Don McLeod.

Between eating the delicious ham and turkey and salads, and listening to Shelly Burman, the kids managed to do quite a bit of dancing—the twist seemed to be the overall favorite. Even one of the chaperones was in these twisting up a storm.

Kieth St. Clair's was the site of another party on Saturday night. Sam DeFranco and Sharon Huebschwerler, Greg Peterson and Pat Canfield, Mike Chance and Janice Fowler, Roger Howard and Chris Campbell, and Ron Jouthas and Marc Jacobs, were some of those there.

EVERYONE went wild over Jimmy Reed, and we hear Doug Rasmussen didn't stop dancing once, the whole night long.

With Christmas only three short weeks away, the hustle and bustle of Christmas shopping is under way, and thoughts of what to get that "certain someone" are filling many a teenager's mind. Plans for skiing and parties over the holidays are making studying an extremely difficult pastime.

Planners Deny Request for Smaller Lots

A property division in Altamira Estates requested by Ian MacKinlay for Mayron Corporation was denied by the Contra Costa County Planning Commission meeting Tuesday in Martinez.

The request was to divide a parcel in Altamira Estates into four lots less than one-half acre in area and with a 10-foot setback on all secondary frontages.

The parcel is described as fronting at the southwest corner of St. Stephens Road and Aqua Vista.

Where's the Fire?

Orinda Fire Department responded to the following calls this week:

FRIDAY: First aid in washing down a gasoline tank on Highway 24 west of the Crossroads; 12:22 p.m., flood in house on Camino Sobrante.

SUNDAY: 1:53 a.m., resuscitator call on Diablo View Drive.

All Agree: Unification Is Good... But Which?

Elementary and high school trustees in the Acalanes area are agreed on one thing—that unification of our elementary districts and our high school district is a good thing.

The only questions that remain are how and when?

You will find full coverage in the front section of this issue of The Sun on the meeting of the County Augmented Committee on School District Reorganization held November 30 at Acalanes High School.

As you probably know, the county committee, which can outvote local trustees, came up with a tentative recommendation for the total unification of the Acalanes district and the elementary districts within it—Canyon, Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

BUT THE ELEMENTARY districts were unanimous in seeking a different kind of unification. They wanted two districts, one joining Orinda, Moraga and Canyon with Miramonte and Campolindo high schools; the other including Lafayette and Walnut Creek and Acalanes, Las Lomas and Del Valle High Schools.

Elementary trustees urged this division of the Acalanes District because, they said, it would offer all the advantages of total unification, but would avoid the disadvantage of size.

They feared, they said, that the ultimately huge district which would be formed under total unification would lead to loss of local control and bureaucracy.

One very interesting thing came from this meeting. That is the merger of elementary districts—their unification and agreement on one plan.

A YEAR AGO, if you will remember, the five elementary districts and the high school board met and came up with six different plans. At that time, they couldn't even agree to disagree.

Now, we have made definite progress. At least the elementary districts agree with each other.

This has not been an easy task. All of them had to bend, to give a little, to arrive at this agreement.

There was criticism of the Acalanes district for standing by its opinion that total unification is the best way, and for not "giving" a little too.

All agreed that to chop the high school district up into more than two districts would probably be unacceptable to state authorities. Everybody but the Acalanes board, however, seems to feel that two districts will do the job as well as the one recommended by the Stanford Research Group and advocated by Acalanes.

OBVIOUSLY WE are not yet out of the woods. But we have made definite progress. Unification is no longer something to be feared, but something to be achieved for the good of our children, which is, after all, the first consideration.

It will ultimately be up to the augmented committee to decide which unification plans we, as citizens, will accept or reject.

We will have a voice in this decision at a public hearing.

Meanwhile, it is our duty to consider these two possibilities, to weigh the facts, and to be prepared to act intelligently when the time comes.

THESE HAPPY SHOPPERS are just a few of the thousands you will meet when you go "downtown" to do your Christmas shopping. It just proves that Christmas is closer than you think—13 more shopping days closer, as a matter of fact. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

We Like It Here... Never Look A Gift Horse In The Face

By MARIE MONAHAN

The can-opener that hangs on the kitchen wall is going on the blink, but I'm afraid to mention it.

You'll notice I was careful not to say "my can-opener" But that's what it is. MY can-opener.

AS THE HOLIDAY season approaches, can-openers came in very handy.

They are very good things to have around. Especially in good working condition.

BUT the reason I'm not letting it out to the family, that My Can-Opener is on the blink, is because I'll be besieged with can-openers.

Everybody, but everybody, will decide to write Can-Opener after the word Mom, on their Christmas Shopping List.

I KNOW FROM past experience!

One Christmas I got five can-openers. All kinds.

It was nice—having all those can-openers in reserve. But then, when I needed one, I could never find where I'd hidden them away.

This is the time of year when everybody is making up Christmas Shopping Lists.

Everyone tries to be very secretive, but the lists are just kind of found floating around the house . . . or on the kitchen floor.

MOST of the lists I find are "Things I Would Like For Christmas." The Getting Lists, I call them.

THE kids have cased the catalogues & top departments & are really very full, VERY FULL, of ideas of things they would like to see under the tree.

I'm full of ideas, too. Like giving them a lecture on "Do you think Money Grows on Trees . . . ?"

OR . . . "It is better to give than to receive . . ."

OR . . . "If you don't cut this list down to one or two items, you'll scare Ol' Santa away from our house!"

BUT, anyhow, I notice that the other lists (giving lists) are usually just jottings on little slips of paper . . . Like under the heading "What Mom Needs . . ."

Well, Mom usually needs a new can opener . . . (Don't mention it!)

Or a new toaster—or a new cookie sheet.

Popular presents for Mom are oven mittens & cookie sheets. (You can guess who reaps the benefits from such items, of course!)

I'm just holding my breath that the refrigerator or the stove doesn't break down in the next two weeks.

If such a crisis occurs, there goes the ballgame!

Christmas is a good time to buy the things you needed all year but never had a real good excuse for . . .

BUT refrigerators & stoves are hardly the thing to fit a Fair Lady's Stocking . . .

On the other hand, there's perfume . . . or a cozy mink hat. (Notice NO reference to mink coat . . . I'm easy to please!)

YES, I'm easy to please!

I probably have more sets of wooden spoons than anybody . . . & I COULD use another cookie sheet . . . or some powder puffs.

BUT when it comes to can-openers wrapped in fancy paper . . .

I think I'll just sneak down to the Hardware tomorrow & buy myself a new one, same kind . . .

A preventive measure, you might say!

AMBIGUOUS

Dear Editor:

Re: Citizens Research Committee. I must agree with Mr. Diefenbach. Your action of placing on the front page an ambiguous opinion, rather than a calm factual report, about the Citizens Research Committee's UNICEF mailing did little but cause angry words between neighbors of differing opinions. It was ill-advised because it cooperated—unwittingly, naturally—with desires of the communists to keep people bickering among themselves.

The material was merely reprints on the subject by named and known groups and people; no comment or opinion was expressed by Citizens Research Committee; the recipients were entirely free to form their own opinion; there was no force used; no laws broken. Anyone who strongly objected was perfectly free to write their dismay, anger, or whatever to the committee at the P.O. Box given.

Calls to newspapers of an emotional nature seldom are a criterion of majority opinion. The majority are too emotionally stable to do this. Had these people written their opinions to the Citizens Research Committee they would have disappointed the commies who put their trust in easily excitable people, and as a newsman you should be even more aware of this than we ordinary citizens.

I cannot help but wonder if this letter will be published without editing, if at all, therefore I hasten to assure you, sir, spirit of constructive criticism, that this is meant in a proper and not in a malicious one.

RAPID TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

(The following letter was sent to Supervisor Mel Nielsen and a copy given to The Sun.)

I am enclosing copy of editorial which appeared in the Lafayette Sun November 24 relative to location of a station in Lafayette for the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system. In my opinion the editorial very aptly spotlights the need for a station close to the center of population in Lafayette.

Manifestly the residents of Lafayette will derive slight benefit from rapid transit if the station is located more than walking distance from the center of town.

I trust that when the rapid transit plans are considered by the board of supervisors that you will use your good offices to re-establish a Lafayette station.

Letters to The Editor

RAPID TRANSIT

Dear Editor:

Way back in 1937 I had the pleasure of sitting in one of the Key System's new trains—the most modern mode of transportation. Light cars, quite, comfortable, with peak visibility—was the way the script read.

All these trains are now in the obsolete class—scrapped.

Now the Rapid Transit District people are trying to (almost literally) shove the same outmoded transportation system down our throats. At least they are trying to shove them next to and through our residential properties. And they seem to be getting a boost from our supervisor who recently suggested that route "C" be adopted. Route C is apparently the last of three suggested routes, and the least sensible as far as I am concerned.

THIS IS A business venture and should be put through business property. The free-ways have already taken out acres of taxable property, now the Rapid Transit is moving to wave its magic wand to destroy and depreciate valuable, cherished, personal property. It is an easy way to do things—saves thinking. Its drawing board technique shown at its ugly best.

The sad truth is that few people in our neighborhood know where route C is to go. Our neighborhood association president apparently called the Rapid Transit people to find the routing, but he received nary an answer up to the time of last week's meeting of the board of supervisors.

The golden boys of the Rapid Transit District smile and say their trains will not be very noisy. The freeway is already creating more noise than most residents north of it bargained for. Anything—any small amount—of noise added to that din will only add to the roar until the hills and homes above the freeway shake from the air wave shocks.

THE GOLDEN BOYS must be from the east—the conservative east. They propose the safe route—the tried and true train—the tried and true train that is gasping for its last breath since the start of the last decade.

Didn't the golden boys ever hear of the monorail? I submit a two way monorail could be constructed in a much smaller space than the surface train. It could be constructed with little or no property condemnation. The center section of the freeway could be used, or even the center section of Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The Lockheed people will have a full fledged monorail in operation in Japan by next April. Let's chip in and send our supervisor over there to observe the "modern" concept of mass transportation.

A two way monorail system can be built on supporting pillars that are only 44 inches wide. Each 42-foot car seats 52 passengers and will accommodate 100 if standees are allowed. Speeds up to 75 miles an hour and more are obtainable.

WHAT I AM saying here, is that the proposal as it now stands smacks of power politics—the people who will suffer loss or devaluation of their property were practically bypassed in getting the plan almost to the voters' hands. I say that an obsolete transport system is being proposed, and I say that it is being pushed to the voting stage before most of the people know what is going on—including the people of the Rapid Transit District.

This is not meant to discredit Supervisor Nielsen, who, in my opinion has done an excellent job of representing the public.

Before Signing Next Tax Check, Please Read This

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

If you "enjoyed" reading your county tax bill last month, then don't bother reading this column.

But if you think our county taxes are "high" or even "impossible," then carry on . . .

I'm talking about the proposal to consolidate Contra Costa's 4 municipal courts and 13 judicial courts. More than a year ago State Chief Justice Phil Gibson, chairman of the State Judicial Council, officially recommended that our courts be consolidated into three municipal and three judicial courts. He said this would save the county (you and me) at least $150,000 per year and make the court system more efficient.

An expert takes over . . .

Then, at the request of our supervisors, County Administrator J. P. McBrien studied the court system. (He is an expert on government and reorganization.) McBrien's report proposed even greater consolidation (a single municipal court district with six judges)—at a savings up to $240,000 per year. At one time, he said the savings could possibly reach $500,000 per year.

Next, the County Bar Association came up with a consolidation plan, after many months of study.

Then, the decision rested squarely on the shoulders of our County Board of Supervisors. And they handled the problem as if it were a political hot potato, which it is.

You see, consolidation would mean the loss of jobs or possibility of such a loss to certain judges, constables, clerks, etc. Some judges would not lose their jobs but would lose prestige. These people have friends and relatives. They are members of a strong group—Judges, Marshals and Constables Association.

They exerted tremendous pressure on our supervisors to kill any consolidation plan when the "issue" was before the supervisors last week.

The anti-consolidation forces also included strong representation from the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

And in this corner . . .

Who spoke for the public? The Contra Costa Taxpayers Association, West Contra Costa and East Contra Costa Taxpayers Committees. (As you may have noted, The Sun for some years has strongly endorsed court consolidation.)

What happened last week? Well, the supervisors killed four separate proposals for consolidation.

Wait a minute—let's be very fair. The board voted 3 to 2 against each of the consolidation proposals. (The story was on front page last Friday.)

Let's call a spade—a spade. How did "our" supervisors vote?

Let's give credit to Tom Coll (District 3), who had the courage and sense of public duty to vote in favor of the consolidation proposals. (See below.) He was joined by Supervisor Edmund Linscheid of Pittsburg.

Next—yes or not?

What did our Supervisor Mel Nielsen do? HE VOTED NO EACH TIME. He was joined by Supervisor James Kenny of Richmond and Joe Silva of Brentwood.

I could spend the next 10 paragraphs giving Mel hell. He deserves it. But let's cut it down to a sentence: Mel Nielsen apparently lacked the courage and sense of public duty to do what is right.

(Memo to Mel: You may have equal space in next week's Sun to answer this, if you so wish.)

Did Mel actually vote AGAINST consolidation of the courts? Tom Coll vote in favor of consolidation? No.

A different question

No, the proposal was to put this issue before the people in an election. Politically, they (the anti-consolidation supervisors) had an out. They were voting only to present the problem to the people on a ballot.

At least they had the sense to realize that, as supervisors, they would be able to make the decision. However, if it had gone to an election, don't you think the voters would have approved consolidation?

If Mel (and Tom, as well) were really thinking of the public's welfare, they would have insisted that the supervisors vote "for or against" consolidation—and not whether to put it on the ballot to let the people decide. There is no question that consolidation is a very good thing—and the supervisors should adopt it.

So . . . thousands of dollars (millions in years ahead) of taxpayers' money (yours and mine) will be squandered.

When you sign your next tax payment check, you might well think of this.

Letters to The Editor

INCORPORATION

Dear Editor:

As I sit here reading two things I am wondering to myself just how much Lafayette has really gained in the past couple of years.

First I have read that Pleasant Hill voted for incorporation—which Lafayette turned down.

Then I read my tax bill and particularly note two taxes included in the bill—

Lafayette Fire District	$.980
Library District	$.064
Total	$1.044

no control over traffic regulation

no development of any parks or recreation

I do feel that his decision to sponsor Route C is ill advised. My suggestion that he be sent to Japan to observe the monorail in operation is made in all seriousness.

MELVIN D. SHINE

Despite the increased assessed values in these two districts this year, the total tax for them is 4.4 cents per $100 over the $1 maximum that an incorporated city of Lafayette could levy without vote approval.

Then I stop and consider all the "extras" that I get by paying an extra 4.4 cents on the tax rate—those valuable extras such as—

no police department
no planning commission
no control over road maintenance

no control over traffic regulation
no development of any parks or recreation

I guess I am twice blessed to live in Lafayette and be permitted to pay more taxes to get fewer services.

ROBERT KAHN

Unification - - What Now?

Unification of our elementary school districts with the Acalanes High School District—where do we go from here?

Until this time, the public has had no say in the unification matter officially, except through contact with the individual school boards.

Now, a public hearing will have to be held, by law, before the matter can be put to public vote.

Already the County Committee on School District Reorganization has scheduled another meeting for December 19 to work out procedural matters. These include establishing a tax rate for a unified district, leveling bond issues and so forth.

FOLLOWING THIS meeting a public meeting will be held at which the entire package will be laid before the people most concerned—the residents who have children in the school districts involved.

These include the Moraga, Orinda, Lafayette, Canyon and Walnut Creek elementary districts and the Acalanes High School District.

It has been indicated that the county committee does not need to adopt the plan which it now tentatively holds, but can change the plan after the public hearing.

Whether this will be done or not is a matter of conjecture. Elementary School District trustees have indicated that the county committee with its 11 members has already made up its mind and that nothing can change it.

THIS DECISION for horizontal unification is also shared by the trustees of the Acalanes High School District who do not want to see their district split up at all.

But the elementary district trustees have unanimously agreed on a two-district unification plan. However, they were outvoted by the county committee.

In theory, the elementary districts could marshal their forces and present such an overwhelming picture at the public hearing that the county committee would consider their plan for unification.

HOWEVER, elementary district trustees have said they doubt that this will happen, and that the horizontal unification plan will be presented at the polls, where it will be defeated soundly.

At any rate, the matter will be brought to a public hearing and then to a vote as soon as possible, by action of the county committee. The vote will probably take place in February, or soon afterwards.

And you, the voter, will have the final say.

Saving Money, Too

We have an excellent example, right here at home, of the operation of a volunteer group which is both providing us with an excellent service and saving us plenty of money at the same time.

Unusual? You bet, and the group deserves credit.

Who are these people? They are the volunteers who have worked, and are working, long and hard to establish Muir Hospital here.

FIRST OF ALL, it is obvious that we need additional hospital facilities in this area. The Muir group proved able and vocal in convincing the Hill-Burton people of this need. So able that we have been granted the contingent award.

How are they saving us money? We can establish this hospital without establishing a taxing district, if we raise the funds required by the Hill-Burton act.

This means a direct saving to each of us who live in the area. The most direct saving, of course, is in not having to pay taxes in a special district to support the hospital, as is the case with Concord Community Hospital.

AND IF YOU STOP to think of the indirect savings, through immediate service, the benefits become even more clear. For example, if you need hospitalization now, chances are you drive through the tunnel. Think of the convenience of having your own hospital right here.

This affects practically every resident of the central county area, with the exception of those who belong to the Permanente plan and use the overburdened facilities of Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek.

These people have done a wonderful job, and they deserve our thanks and our support.

Suburbia Today

MARY LOUISE MCGOWAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrington-McGowan, Jr. of Lafayette, became the bride of Theo Charles Gage of Dunkirk, New York in San Francisco last month.

Lafayette Girl Weds New Yorker

Calvary Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, was the scene of the marriage of Mary Louise McGowan of Lafayette to Theo Charles Gage of Dunkirk, New York, in mid-November.

Dr. Carl Gordon Howie officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrington-McGowan, Jr., of 3190 Somerset Drive, and a graduate of the University of California. The bridegroom is employed by the State Department in San Francisco and will enter Stanford University in January to complete his engineering degree.

Assorted white chrysanthemums and foliage in table decorations were placed in the foyer of the church and behind the altar. White satin ornamented the pew entrances.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory peau de soie fashioned with a high necked bodice and chapel train. Her fingertip veil was fastened by a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was a shower bouquet of miniature cattleyas, orchids and stephanotis. Her matron of honor, Miss Marcia C. Orear, and bridesmaids Miss Margit Bliss and Mrs. Leo Schwab wore sheaths of topaz satin with large bows and long sashes in back.

Henry Harrington McGowan III, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Robert Phillips, Leo Schwab, John Kipley and Edward McKenna, Jr. Mrs. McGowan wore a Barathean sheath in pink cyclamen with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pale pink cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother was clad in a green and silver brocade sheath with matching jacket. Her accessories were a darker shade of green and her flowers, green cymbidium orchids.

Linden Jr. Branch Will Give 'Candlelight Tea'

A peek into "Santa's Chalet" rewarded members and friends of Linden Jr. Branch when they gathered at the home of Mrs. Norman Parker of Orinda Wednesday.

Branch members scheduled 4 p.m. that afternoon for the benefit of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Mrs. Parker has transformed her studio-workshop into a Christmas-filled room that looks as if Santa had taken up permanent residence. Antique furnishings and colored glass windows lend a Swiss air to the room she calls "Santa's Chalet." Inside is a wicker tree trimmed with old-fashioned tassel fringe, red braid and loop fringe with multicolored Christmas balls hanging from the loops.

There is also a gaily-decked, wicker sleigh and bell. Dozens of Christmas balls in all sizes and colors, and hundreds of other tree ornaments, candles, holiday wrappings and package decorations fill the room almost to overflowing.

Mrs. Parker made all the Christmas decorations herself.

Mrs. John Dorr, an associate branch member, and her mother, Mrs. Harper Wright, both of Mahibu, were special guests at the affair.

Assisting Mrs. Parker as hostess was Mrs. James L. Chapple of Orinda.

Guests at the tea may purchase as well as admire the festive decorations. Earnings benefited the part-pay program at Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

This program provides medical assistance for children from families of limited financial means.

Jr. Alliance To Welcome Neophytes

Junior Alliance of Lincoln Child Center has 15 new members today, according to an announcement from the group of young matrons which supports the program for emotionally disturbed youngsters at Lincoln Home in Oakland.

New members from central Contra Costa include: the Mesdames Donald E. Anderson, Richard L. Burns, John Crook and John W. Martsof of Orinda; Herbert S. Smith of Lafayette and Edmund Cody, Jr., and Wilfred Clarke of Walnut Creek.

Pandora Plans Dinner Party

The project for the evening, which has been planned by Mrs. Lewis Aguiar, assisted by Mrs. Charles Sears, will be to fill individual gift boxes with articles for elderly people whom Santa might otherwise forget.

Among those planning to attend are the Mesdames Eugene Cherry, president of the auxiliary; Adrian Gensoul, vice president; Angelo Schenone, corresponding secretary; John Snyder, recording secretary; William McGregor, treasurer; Donald McCauley, membership chairman, and Mrs. Owen Black, student procurement chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Everett of Herman Drive, Lafayette, have been spending a few days at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

Women Set Dates for 2 Events

The Santa Maria Women's Club has two special dates on a busy holiday calendar.

Tomorrow night members and their husbands will dinner-dance at the Orinda Country Club. President Mary Rushforth, CL 4-0535, and Jean Nikolai, DR 6-5594 still may be taking a few last minute reservations.

Monday the group will hold their annual December Christmas party to which members have been requested to bring a gift, a white elephant—or something special which its recipient will enjoy.

A special attraction of the Christmas party will be a musical program featuring a brass quartet led by Dr. John Boulware on the trumpet.

Playing on the other trumpet, a tube and a trombone, be Dr. Tom Condon, Lyman Lorensen and Judy Roberts. The group will also accompany the community singing of Christmas Carols. A large crowd is expected for this more-than-merrier event.

The Santa Maria Dad's Club will conduct a Christmas tree sale on the parking level Saturday and Sunday, and again the following week and December 16 and 17 with a special selection of freshly-cut, A-I green trees available for public patronage.

Swallow Unit Will Present Movie Party

Tickets are now available for the Children's Theatre Party to be given by Swallow Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center December 20 at the Park Theatre in Lafayette.

Price of the tickets is 50 cents. All proceeds will go to the center.

The Swallows held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. S. Taylor in Orinda recently and elected new officers for the following year as follows: the Mesdames Ted Barcelon, president; Thomas Bridgeford, vice-president; Robert Olson, corresponding secretary; Leo Schell, recording secretary; Walter Jensen, treasurer, and John Gilerest, parliamentarian.

They will be installed at a luncheon Tuesday at the Terrace Room.

Carnival Planned by Chinquapin

Twinkling greetings from a 12-foot Christmas tree will welcome Chinquapin Branch members, their husbands and friends at the Berkeley home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ballard December 15.

The occasion is a "Christmas Carnival" benefiting Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

The Ballards are turning their home at 2840 Claremont Boulevard into a holiday midway. A different game, from darts in the downstairs rumpus room to bridge in the drawing room will be set up in each room. And each room will have its own Christmas tree.

In fact the only room retained for its original purpose will be the dining room, where a festive buffet of holiday delicacies will be served at 7 p.m. Among those members assisting the hosts will be Mrs. Leland Case of Walnut Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tringham of Concord. Mrs. William Owen of Orinda also is expected to attend.

Lafayette Women Raise Funds for 'Daughter'

Tau Omicron, Lafayette Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi raised $200 for their adopted daughter in Hong Kong at their annual rummage sale Saturday in Oakland.

This sale provides food, clothing and an education for Tam Ngan Nui, who was adopted by Tau Omicron in 1959. She is 13 years old and lives in St. James Settlement. This settlement is one of 11 Christian Children's Fund Homes and projects in Hong Kong.

The Lafayette group, through Mrs. William Weik, treasurer, gets letters from Ngan Nui describing her rate of progress. In these she always expresses her deep gratitude to her adopted "parents."

Jewish Center Planning To Build New Sanctuary

Over 300 people turned out Sunday for a dinner meeting at the Concord Inn in Concord, to hear of plans to erect a new sanctuary on the present site of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

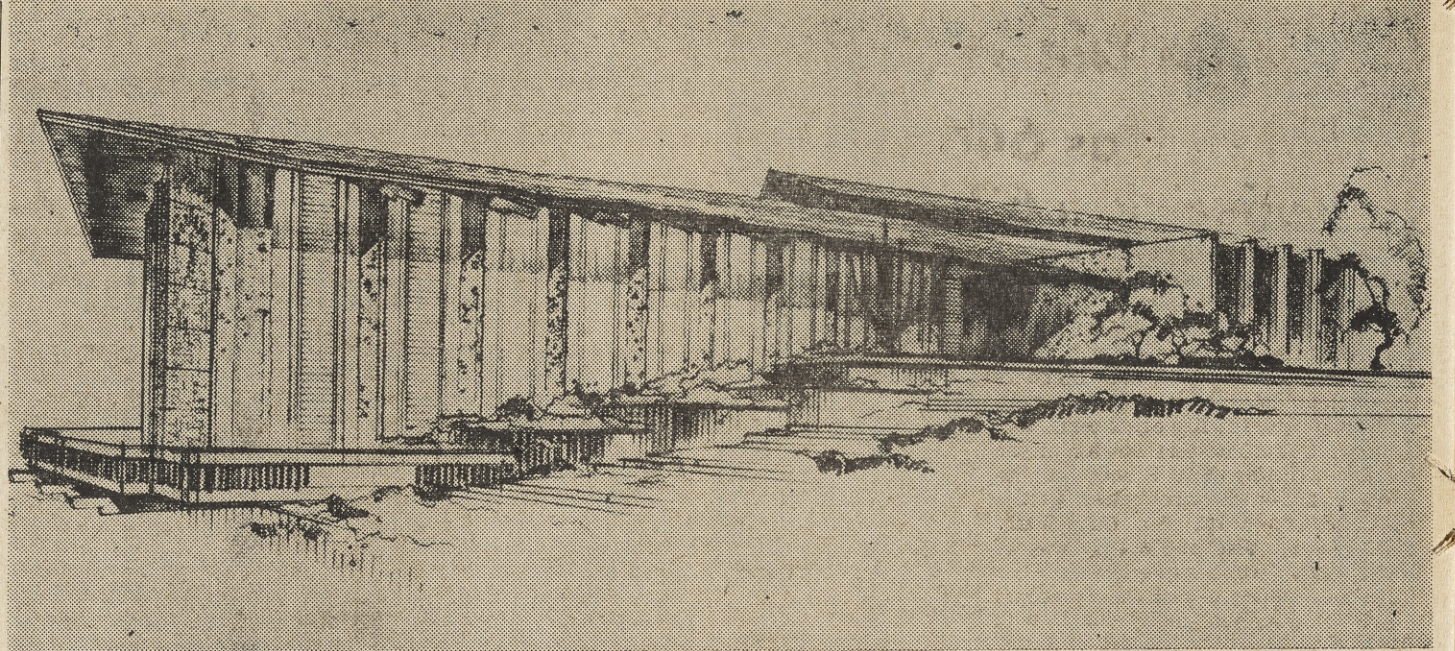

Mrs. Bernice Scharlack reviewed the history of the center which was initiated by a small group of women who formed the League of Jewish Women in 1951 for the purpose of starting a Sunday school for the children.

THE MEN soon stepped into the picture and a community center was formed two years later followed by the purchase of the land and building at 3900 Mount Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

From a meager 25 families over 10 years ago, the Community Center has grown to a membership of over 190 families, with better than 250 children in Sunday school.

OTHER speakers of the evening were: Harry Lotzkar, building drive chairman; Milton Greenstein, building plans; past president Fred Katzberg; Dr. Leonard Morgenstern, president, and Rabbi David Robbins.

Initial pledges for the building fund by the campaign workers alone totaled $43,000 before the drive started. To start construction a minimum of $150,000 is needed with a completion cost of approximately $225,000.

THIS BEAUTIFUL structure will house, eventually, the sanctuary at the Jewish Community Center, the Rabbi's study, a kitchen and social hall. The building will be clearly visible from Mt. Diablo Boulevard as you travel west through Lafayette. It will be located on the present Jewish Community Center property.

Feast of Lights Is Tonight

Special Hanukkah services (Feast of Lights) will be held at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, 3900 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, tonight at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi David Robbins' sermon topic will be "Hatred—the New Theological Panacea."

Cantor Henri Goldberg and the center mixed choir will render the musical part of the service with traditional holiday melodies.

A special "Latke" or pancake party will be sponsored for the entire membership on Sunday evening at 8 p.m. by the social committee with Milton Greenstein in charge of arrangements.

The Leagues Drama Dames will present a reading of "The World of Sholom Aleichem."

Two Prep Tournaments Highlight Weekend Play

Rams Defeat Las Lomas; DV, CP Other Winners

In the top game played Tuesday, Pleasant Hill sprinted in the last quarter to upend Las Lomas, 48-39, after three Knight regulars fouled out.

In other games, Del Valle and College Park were local winners, while Miramonte and San Ramon were losing.

The Trojans defeated Terra Linda, 42-29; College Park thumped Amador, 34-26; Miramonte lost in overtime to Clayton Valley, 32-30, and San Ramon was bombed by Pittsburg, 77-57.

PLEASANT HILL 48 LAS LOMAS 39

Las Lomas held a slight upper hand throughout the first three quarters against Pleasant Hill.

After the Rams sprinted to tie the score at 20-all at the half, the Knights gained a 33-31 edge at the end of three quarters.

Al Oxley put the host Rams on top 34-33 at the start of the final quarter with a three-point play.

Soon afterwards Las Lomas ace Bob Nichols received his fifth personal. He was soon followed to the bench by coach Ed Strelow's only other letterman, guard Greg Bertagnoli and forward Rick Inman as they picked up their fifth foul.

The Rams wasted no time in pulling away from the Knights after that. They outscored the Knights, 17-6 in the period.

Oxley, a six-foot forward, led the final period spurt for the Rams with 11 points, five from the free-throw line. Oxley finished with 18 points for the game.

Mark Kimball, a junior forward, had 13 points for Pleasant Hill on six baskets and a free throw.

Nichols topped Las Lomas with 13 points, but Pleasant Hill Coach Art Poulin singled out Glen Graham for a fine performance in keeping Nichols' point total down. Graham was moved from forward to center for the purpose of guarding Nichols.

In all, Las Lomas had 20 fouls called on its starting five and picked up 24 personal fouls altogether. There were only 11 personal fouls called on the Rams.

The Knights hit on 9 of 10 attempts from the free-throw line while Pleasant Hill could convert on only 11 of 28 charity tosses.

CLAYTON VALLEY 32 MIRAMONTE 30

Miramonte suffered its second straight defeat of the young season in the same heartbreaking manner Tuesday.

After being defeated by the buzz in regulation time Friday, the Matadors dropped an overtime decision to the Eagles.

The game was deadlocked at 15-15 at the half, 22-22 at the end of three quarters and 28-28 at the end of regulation time.

Guard Bruce Nickerson gave the Mats a two-point bulge in the overtime period, but the Eagles came back with two of their own to take the win. Miramonte had a chance to gain a tie in the final seconds, but a three-second violation gave the ball to the Eagles.

In regulation play, the Mats had a 28-26 lead with 1:30 to play, but Clayton Valley tied the score at that point.

Senior forward Mike McQuaid-Rice 11 for the Wolves.

DVC Opens with Three Wins--- At Home Tonight

Diablo Valley College is off to a fast start in the young basketball season, racking up three wins in a five-day period.

Tuesday evening in Pleasant Hill, the Vikings edged Contra Costa College, its "sister school," by a 56-54 score for their third win.

Friday, the Vikings rolled over College of Marin, 69-48, in their season opener, then followed with a 37-34 triumph over Santa Rosa on Saturday night.

The Vikings are at home this evening against Modesto Junior College. Game time at the DVC gym is 8 p.m.

TOMORROW night, DVC hosts San Jose State College's frosh team, also in an 8 p.m. game. Tuesday, the Vikings travel to Sacramento City College.

Tom Nichols has led the DVC scorers in all three games. After scoring 15 and 10 in the opening games, Nichols came through with a 22-point performance against Contra Costa.

San Coston had 16 against the Comets. Contra Costa held a 48-47 lead with 5:40 left, but DVC scored six straight points to move out in front to stay.

The Vikings hit on 24 of 49 shots from the field for a fine 48 percentage. Contra Costa had problems hitting from the floor, making only 22 of 59 shots for 34 per cent.

DVC led from the start and was on top, 32-25, at the half.

IN FRIDAY night's opener, the Vikings got off to a fast start and never trailed. The home club was out in front by a comfortable 38-23 margin at halftime.

George Smylie followed Nichols in the scoring parade with 10 points. Bill Albert had seven rebounds to lead the Vikings in that department.

At Santa Rosa, the Vikings were slow in getting started. They could only muster 11 points at halftime and trailed, 17-11.

DVC opened up early in the second half to grab the lead and then put on a great show of defense to insure the close victory.

Coston contributed nine points to the winning effort. Dick Dole grabbed off eight of the Vikings' 27 rebounds to top all players.

St. Mary's Loses To Stanford

St. Mary's suffered its first defeat of the season, losing to Stanford Monday night in Palo Alto, 71-65.

The Gaels had opened their schedule Saturday night with a 91-75 win over Sacramento State.

Tomorrow evening at Moraga, St. Mary's hosts University of California at Santa Barbara before traveling to the City of Roses Tournament at Portland next Thursday.

ST. MARY'S never led after the opening minutes against the Indians.

They did manage to tie the score twice late in the first half before Stanford pulled away to a 35-32 halftime advantage.

After knotting the score early in the second half, St. Mary's could not find the range and fell behind by 20 points, 63-43, with 6:27 left in the game.

Led by forward Steve Gray, the Gaels began a torrid comeback that saw St. Mary's outscore the home club, 22-5, in the next five minutes.

Stanford, with its lead cut to 68-65, then scored a free throw and a basket with a minute to go which preserved their second win against no losses.

GRAY led all scorers with 25 points on nine baskets and seven free throws. Kit Ruona had 14 and Hamilton Holmes 12 for the Gaels.

Against Sacramento State, Gray again paced the Gaels with 26 points.

The 6-4 junior who seems destined to inherit the St. Mary's scoring leadership from the departed Tom Meschery had 11 field goals and four free throws.

He scored 10 points in the final 10 minutes after the visitors had cut St. Mary's lead.

Local Club Is Winner of Team Tennis Title

Miramonte, Pleasant Hill, Mt. Diablo Are the Sites

Two high school basketball tournaments highlight the action this weekend among local schools.

All schools are in action this weekend. At Miramonte, the Matadors host Pittsburg, Livermore and Galileo in a two-night championship tourney.

Tonight Livermore and Pittsburg open play at 7:30 with Miramonte and San Francisco's Galileo clashing in the feature game.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 the two losers will meet in a consolation contest while the winners play for the championship at 8:45.

TONIGHT at the Pleasant Hill High School gym, the first round of the Mid-Valley Classic will be played.

In the opening contest, Mt. Diablo and Gridley clash at 7:30 p.m. while Pleasant Hill hosts St. Ignatius in the 9 p.m. game.

The scene shifts to Mt. Diablo

In another game tonight, Acalanes ends a 10-day layoff when they host Antioch in Lafayette.

College Park and Del Valle clash at the Trojans' gym in the other prep contest tonight. It is Del Valle's first home game of the season.

TOMORROW night, Las Lomas travels to Amador to battle the winless Dons at Pleasanton.

In Tuesday games, College Park hosts Alhambra, San Ramon play the same role for St. Elizabeth while Acalanes visits Mt. Diablo.

Thursday, Las Lomas will be traveling to Anderson for that school's annual tournament while Miramonte travels to Sunset and Del Valle makes a trip to Novato.

The Miramonte Tournament title appears to be up for grabs at the present time.

The hosting Matadors have lost two games by a total of three points. Both contests could have gone the other way easily.

After losing two straight games, Pittsburg erupted with 77 points against San Ramon and appear to be a definite threat for the title.

Livermore is paced by 6-7 center Erwin Mueller who personally defeated Pleasant Hill with 20 points and 18 rebounds. Pittsburg will have to stop him in order to make the finals.

Miramonte's opponent tonight came out second-best in the San Ramon Invitational last weekend. The Lions edged San Ramon, but were thumped easily by tough St. Mary's in the finals.

IN THE Mid-Valley Classic, Pleasant Hill looks like a good bet after defeating Las Lomas in its last outing. However, St. Ignatius is of unknown quality and might be the team to beat.

Mt. Diablo lost its first two games while nothing is known about Gridley.

Acalanes hopes to stretch its record to 2-0 tonight against Antioch. The Dons were far from champions the last time out, but appear to be capable of much more than they showed.

The College Park-Del Valle game should be most interesting with both teams having problems getting started this season.

Both quintets picked up their first wins this week.

The Ski Line . . .

Get Your Favorite Skier Something Nice for Xmas

By HEC HANCOCK

That sound of rushing air you heard last week was the collective sigh of relief coming from an aggregation comprised of ski resort operators, ski shop proprietors, and just plain old ski enthusiasts.

The Big Snow of last week left the slopes belly deep to a tall dog with the wonderful white stuff. The winter, making an early appearance, will provide a windfall for the long suffering resort operators and ski dealers. In some measure, it will help atone for the dreary winters of recent years.

However, before we count on wallowing in those gorgeous Sierra drifts through June, remember what happened last season. Recall that at this time we were off to an equally auspicious start, only to run into a record breaking drought that extended from the first of December through January. Just keep your fingers crossed and keep beating the snow drums. Whatever you've been doing has been working fine thus far.

Regardless, we appear assured of skiing for Christmas, which leads us to another point. With the ever increasing interest in skiing, chances are you'll have a number of skiers on your Christmas lists. If this be the case, there shouldn't be any problem in selecting a suitable gift from a large variety that are available. Be your skier a boomer of many years or a snow-bunny just venturing forth, it should be a relatively simple task to have him or her in high glee come Christmas morning.

THERE are a few suggestions it might be well to remember when you sally forth to make your selection. Number one: it's a real smart idea to avail yourself of an authentic ski shop for your shopping. It is possible to pick up items that can serve the purpose, but these in most cases will not be satisfactory as those designed specifically for skiing.

Remember too, that ski apparel has become as fashionable as milady's hats. If you aren't checked out on the latest, call on your ski dealer to fill you in.

Presenting your favorite hot shot Charlie of the slopes with a knitted sweater of reindeer or other assorted fauna and he will make about as big a hit as last week's newspaper.

This year, much of the ski wear is in soft shades of greens, beiges, browns and golds. The emphasis is on the simple elegance. The texture of the material, the cut of the cloth are the important things.

Sweaters are featuring icelandic designs that blend excellently with the many colors in which ski pants are now to be found. Should you be considering a gift of ski pants, think only in terms of stretch pants. Now available in a full range of prices, the stretchies have virtually brought about the demise of the non-stretch garment.

CORRECT fit of stretch pants is very important. Again look for professional advice.

If you have ideas of slipping a new pair of skis in your favorite skier's Christmas stocking, be prepared to give the salesman some idea of your boomer's size and level of ability. In skis, the trend, particularly for the top recreational skier is to metal skis. While the initial cost is fairly heavy, the advantage they provide in minimal upkeep and long wear, more than offsets the price.

Knights Win; Three Other Local Teams Lose Friday

In games played last Friday night, Las Lomas opened its season in impressive style, thumping hapless College Park, 60-35, while the other three local teams in action all were defeated.

Del Valle opened its first varsity basketball season by losing to Skyline of Oakland, 33-27; Miramonte lost a heartbreaker to Berkeley, 35-34, and Pleasant Hill was outclassed by Livermore, 37-28.

The Knights, last season's Football League champions, were paced by all-leaguer Bob Nichols with 19 points.

Nichols scored nine points in the first period as Las Lomas roared to an overwhelming 23-9 lead in the opening quarter.

FORWARD Rich Nye, making his varsity debut, scored 10 points as did guard Greg Bertagnolli. Guard Perry Conner contributed eight points.

Roger Mower paced the Falcons with nine points. Mickey Sytkowski had seven.

At Skyline, Del Valle fell behind, 14-4, at the end of one quarter and could never catch up after the cold spell. The Tro-

Erwin Mueller, a 6'7" center, was the difference for the host club. Mueller scored 20 points, 15 in the first half and pulled down 18 rebounds. Teammate Steve Harrison had 12 points as the two players scored all but five of their team's total points.

Al Oxley had eight points to pace the Rams. Ken Fridenback had six while Glen Graham and Paul Murphy each had five.

A game couldn't be lost in more discouraging fashion than the way Miramonte was decided by Berkeley last Friday.

Bob Williams had apparently given the Matadors a 36-35 win with a last second two-pointer. However, it was ruled that his shot was taken after the buzzer. The noise from the frantic crowd had drowned out the game-ending buzzer and the officials let play continue. The timekeeper informed them of the too-late shot after play was finally halted. The score was tied, 17-17, at the half in the nip-and-tuck contest. The Matadors spurred to a 27-24 lead after three quarters, but fell behind in the fourth quarter and didn't have quite enough time to catch up. Veteran Mike McQuaid and Bruce Nickerson, a Bee team standout last year, topped the Mats' scoring with nine points each.

St. Mary's Romps To Tourney Title At San Ramon

San Ramon settled for consolation honors in its first annual invitational basketball tournament held last weekend in Danville as St. Mary's copped the title.

The Panthers, of Berkeley, ran off with the tourney title as they won both games in the two-day affair with no trouble whatsoever.

Friday the Panthers blasted hapless Amador, 71-37, then came back for an easy 58-38 win over Galileo of San Francisco the following night.

San Ramon won its consolation battle against Amador, 36-31, after Galileo had nipped the Wolves, 38-30, opening night.

St. Mary's now has won six in a row in this young basketball season and is performing like it will be one of the Bay Area's top teams.

The Berkeley team placed three players on the all-tourney team and won the rooters' trophy to take just about everything out of Danville back to the university town.

Forward Dan Ready was the top performer in the tournament, as he poured in 45 points in the two games—25 against Galileo in the championship tilt.

He was picked on the all-tournament team along with teammates John Raithel and Reggie Kellum.

Filling out the six-man squad were guard Walt Williams of Local Players Will Perform in Gotham Bowl

The first annual Gotham Bowl football game in New York's Polo Grounds tomorrow will feature unbeaten Utah State and many names familiar to Contra Costa residents.

Utah State's opponent in the game is Baylor. Baylor's record is 5-5 while Utah State is 9-0-1. United Press International ranked the Utes No. 10 in the nation in its final tabulations. Baylor is not ranked in the top 20.

Heading the list of local players for Utah State is halfback Tom Larscheid of Pleasant Hill. Larscheid was the Utes' top ground gainer and one of the nation's leading scorers.

ANOTHER first string performer from the area is tackle Clark Miller of Orinda.

Both Miller and Larscheid were named to the Skyline Conference all-star team this week.

The only blemish on Utah State's otherwise perfect record was a tie with Wyoming.

The two teams deadlocked for the league crown.

Larscheid was picked by the Philadelphia in the National Football League's annual draft this week.

Other former prep stars from this area now performing for Utah State are Roger Leonard and Foulk of Pleasant Hill; Dan Noecker of San Ramon; Jim Turner of Crockett, and Lionell Aldridge of Pittsburg.

Tony Knapp, a former coach at Pittsburg, is assistant coach of the Utes.

Galileo, guard Dan Teezon of the Lions went out in front to Amador and center Jim Howell stay with two quick baskets at the start of the final quarter.

On opening night in the Galileo-San Ramon clash, the lead changed hands 14 times before 12.

DESSERTS OF THE WEEK FROM Betty Crocker

If you're a teenager in the house, you no doubt do your share of entertaining the crowd. And these days, nothing hits the spot like cake and cocoa. With a box of our cake mix on the shelf, it's so easy your youngster can do the baking. (And we know some handsome young men who like to bake as much as their sisters!) Why not suggest a record party this very weekend.

Cake-of-the-week: RIVIERA LEMON TORTE

Prepare Betty Crocker Lemon Velvet Cake Mix batter as directed. Pour into prepared layer pans. Make Betty Crocker Lemon Fluff Frosting Mix as directed. Cover batter with frosting. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup chopped walnuts. Bake at 350° for 45 to 55 min. Cool. Split layers. Fill with 1 1/2 cups whipping cream whipped with 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Chill.

Family favorite: SUNDAE CAKES

Pick any flavor Betty Crocker Layer Cake Mix—how about Devils Food? Bake as directed in an oblong pan, 13x9x2". Cool. Cut into squares. Top each square with a generous scoop of the family's favorite ice cream—and lavish with chocolate sauce.

For a party: HI-FI CAKE

For "Happy Birthday" or just plain "Swing and Sway"—bake Betty Crocker Milk Chocolate Cake Mix in layers. Prepare Betty Crocker Chocolate Fudge Flavor Frosting Mix and Creamy White Frosting Mix. Spread creamy white between layers; save 1 cup. Frost top and sides of cake with chocolate, reserving 1/2 cup. Frost center of cake with a little white frosting to resemble a record label. Draw lines of fork through chocolate frosting to give effect of grooves. Use the reserved chocolate frosting to write "Happy Birthday" or any appropriate message and make 2 or 3 notes and a dot for record hole on label. Use white frosting to decorate sides with musical symbols.

BETTY CROCKER makes the difference... taste it!

School Enrollments Up 50,000 in 10 Years

Contra Costa County schools this fall gained 5055 students over a decade of growth averaging 5000 annually.

The school population is now 118,946 in all grades, kindergarten through junior college.

This compares with 68,872 when the decade began. While the 10-year growth has been impressive, it falls short of that of the preceding decade and of 1951 itself, the peak year of post-World War II growth, from which both numerical and annual rates of increase have gradually receded.

Numerical growth that year was 7401 and the rate of increase over the previous year, 12 per cent.

In contrast, this year's gain over 1960 was four per cent.

Another marked change was an about-face in the relation of elementary growth to high school, said County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

Whereas in 1951 the elementary level increased 14 per cent and the secondary, 10.5 per cent, the current rates are two and five-tenths per cent elementary growth and seven per cent secondary.

Elementary enrollment is 82,138, up 1750. Enrollment in junior and senior high schools is 41,909, up 2680.

A switch occurred also in junior college enrollment. In 1951 with young men drained off by the Korean War, Contra Costa Junior College District was losing enrollment.

But, this fall the district registered a nearly 15 per cent increase over a year ago, enrolling 4899.

Its growth was exceeded only by that of one other of the 32 school districts.

Moraga experienced a 30 per cent gain, attaining a total of 479 students. Moraga began the 1950's with 39 students but since 1955 has been the top growth area in the county because of intensive residential development.

Other high rates of growth occurred at the high school level. Mt. Diablo Unified grades 7-12 and the San Ramon Valley Union High School District each experienced increases of 11 per cent and Alcatraz Union High School District, 10 per cent.

Seven of the school districts lost enrollment. Among them was Richmond City, which decreased one per cent, although Richmond Union High School District, embracing a larger area, gained nearly four per cent.

After two weeks in Japan, Warswick will take a French freighter to Bombay, India, and from there an overland railroad to Calcutta. From Calcutta he will proceed to Darjeeling in the Himalayas.
According to Mrs. Warswick, her son then hopes to get to Bouton Sikim Nepa, where he intends to live in a Sherpa village. Warswick hopes to make a film depicting the life of a Sherpa family.
During the past year he was associated with the film department of Station KQED and also with Butler Wilding Corporation, leading 16 millimeter film producer.

Policies, Aims Stated By Women for Peace

Women for Peace of the Diablo Valley area today announced their policies and aims "for the consideration of all who seek to act effectively with the group in the cause of peace," according to their spokesman, Mrs. William R. Feary of Orinda.

They state that, "We cherish the privilege and responsibility of the individual in a democratic society to act to determine the course of government. WE ARE SEEKING information for both ourselves and the general public on the issues of war and the new problems of peace."

"We want to stimulate public interest in disarmament and its related problems."

And, further, "We believe there are peaceful alternatives to war whereby free societies may thrive."

As a part of this program, the group last night hosted speaker Dr. Amatai Etzioni at Parkmead School. His address was entitled "The Hard Way to Peace" and outlined a possible new peace strategy.

DR. ETZIONI is on the faculty of Columbia University and visiting professor this year at the University of California.

The program at Parkmead involved the participation of many women from Contra Costa County. Helping as program committee chairmen in Walnut Creek are the Mesdames Melvin Reid, Douglas Page, John Cressman, Don Houser, Alvin Goren; in Danville, Mrs. George Min-ger; in Orinda, the Mesdames Rals Leven, Jerome Donchin, William Fearey, Leonard Roth, Robert Luthy, Avraham Yedidia, and in Lafayette, Mrs. Richard Lininger. This committee, and the many other women working closely with them on the program, urge the community at large to join work.

Valley Art Center Has Unusual Gift Selections

Christmas gifts with a flair and beautiful work of art, signed by the artist, yet the price range of these gifts includes the very moderate as well as the very grand. Prices begin at 50 cents, and most of the gifts are tagged at less than $10, according to Mrs. Richard Johnston of Lafayette, the new director of the Valley Art Center, has collected the gift and decorations for the Christmas sale.

JEWEL-LIKE mobiles of glass and plastic, made by Ruth Howard of Walnut Creek, come in many glittering sizes and shapes.

A delightful collection of silk screen prints by Irene Lagorio has just been placed on display. Jewelry in the modern manner includes an intriguing collection of rings, pins, bracelets, each an ornament and a conversation piece.

The pottery collection in warm earth colors is the work of Anthony Prieto and his students. Here are ashtrays of important scale, teapots of unusual form, vases, bowls, even charming little bird houses.

And since Christmas begins at home, the Valley Art Center offers many distinctive decorations, even the rental of paintings to create a festive atmosphere in any house.

Lunch at Castlewood

The purpose of the Orinda Newcomers Club as outlined by Louise Hampton, publicity chairman, is to welcome newcomers and help them become acquainted in the community.

"Our purpose is strictly social," Mrs. Hampton said. "Regular meetings are usually scheduled for the third Wednesday of each month. The group organized in the fall of 1957 and the first officers were elected in January 1958 and the constitution adopted."

"The club has grown from the original handful of ladies to a present membership of 153," she concluded.

Wednesday the club will meet for lunch at the Castlewood Country Club. A social hour is planned for 11:30 with luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Gifts will be exchanged in the afternoon.

Mrs. Oliver Granucci invites all new residents of Orinda to attend any meeting as a guest. Any question regarding the club or its activities should be directed to Mrs. James Hawke, CL 4-8341.

Light Up an Outdoor Tree For Christmas Sparkle

Lighting up an outdoor tree is a Christmas tradition in California. The practice has brightened our holiday season since an early date and in many communities, special prizes are offered as a reward for the most imaginative displays.

If you would like to string some outdoor lights yourself, there is no substitute for a confidant evergreen to string them.

in. You will see lights hanging from every type of shrub and tree, but in keeping with tradition, the conifers are best.

YOU'LL FIND a varied lot of these conifers in nurseries, and the following notes from the California Association of Nurserymen might be helpful in picking them over. They are all surprisingly fast growing under garden conditions, so don't be concerned by their lack of size when you get them. You can add lights each year.

The familiar gray toned deodar cedar is far and away the most popular with Californians for outdoor decoration. These are not trees for close quarters, however, since they grow both high and wide enough to screen out your view of and from your house.

Give them room to grow and keep them, where possible, to the side rather than square in the middle of your landscape. Their symmetrical, Christmas tree shape is the ideal prop for your outdoor Christmas pageant.

For a columnar tree that can be grown close in against a wall or by the doorway for decoration, the Irish yew is recommended. Its deep green foliage and narrow, upright growth make a fine outdoor support for lights.

A SIMILARLY modest shrub or small tree is the Lawson cypress. Taller, but still columnar enough not to seem out of place in small gardens, is the Beverly Hills arbutus. You'll recognize it by the bright yellow color of its new growth.

Except in their early years, pines are not generally suited to this use, for both the size and shape of mature specimens prohibit an effective display. The CAN suggests, however, that Monterey pine is fine when it's young and bushy. It can be planted and decorated for a few years while children are growing up, then forgotten for such use and enjoyed simply as a fine tree, which it most certainly is.

YMCA Opens Lots Selling Holiday Trees

Christmas tree lots will be opened by the Mt. Diablo YMCA tomorrow at Dewing Lane and Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, and across from the Park and Shop Shopping Center, Concord.

Several hundred Douglas and white fir trees from Oregon will be available.

YMCA volunteer fathers and sons will assist sales.

'Children Are Products of Our Teaching'

"Children are what we teach them to be," Dr. Henry F. Warnken advised Mt. Diablo Council PTA members.

Dr. Warnken, author of "Motivation and Control," is guidance consultant in Mt. Diablo School District.

"If parents really believe that it's important to control children, they must patiently work it out with their own children. But if parents are unable to control themselves, they cannot effectively control their children," he said.

Catholic Unit Plans Dinner Dance Event

A dinner dance will be held by the Catholic Social Service Auxiliary of Central Contra Costa County January 15 at Mike Lynn's Orinda Willows.

"Getting To Know You" will be the theme.

Committee members are Mesdames Richard Talbot, chairman; James Pender, co-chairman; Larry Stumph, program; William Heimes, tickets.

Buy Camellias When Blooming Is Suggested

Camellias should be bought during their bloom season so you can see what you're getting. Check nurseries for the different varieties as they come to bloom.

Spring blooming bulbs are still to be found, but you should plant them without further delay.

Snails and slugs are active during cool weather. Scatter snail bait around your garden and keep a fresh supply on hand. Rain will wash out the pellets' effectiveness.

Crabgrass control can start now. Ask your CAN nurseryman about commercially prepared controls for use on areas where the pesky invader caused trouble last summer.

Make sure tuberous begonia bulbs have been lifted and stored. They will rot when left to winter over in a wet soil.

Plastic Pool Floated by The Right Word

Allen Griffith of 2355 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek, sold his plastic swimming pool with a want ad in The Sun.

E. J. Leonardo of 123 Scenic Drive, Orinda, sold an 18-foot trailer with a Sun want ad.

Mrs. J. B. Hargis of 3921 Juniper Drive, Concord, sold an "old fashioned" bassinet, a dresser and some almonds with a single Sun want ad.

These are typical of the hundreds of "success stories" reported each week by Sun classified customers.

The newspapers are the Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

You can get this treatment and similar results by placing a 14-word ad for only $1.60.

Freud's 'A Far Country' Opens Dec. 18 at Alcazar

"A Far Country," Henry Denker's Broadway stage success, will open in San Francisco December 18, at the Alcazar Theatre for a limited two-week engagement after nearly a year's run at New York's Music Box Theatre.

Starring in the drama based on Sigmund Freud and his earliest ventures into psychoanalysis, are Kim Stanley, Michael Tolan and Ludwig Donath. Miss Stanley, acclaimed as one of the nation's top actresses, will be making her initial footlight appearance on the West Coast in this production, appearing as the first patient ever administered to by Freud in the now-famous treatment.

Prominently featured in the supporting cast of the play, which takes place just before the turn of the century and is based on actual characters and incidents in Freud's life, are Lili Darvas, Michael Strong, Joanna Merlin, Bill Weston, Ryan MacDonald, Eda Reiss-Merlin and Ellen Weston.

Produced by Roger L. Stevens and Joel Schenker, the forthcoming Alcazar attraction is directed by Alfred Ryder, recently
